50th Annual Conference Program
National Council on Family Relations

NOVEMBER 12-16, 1988
Wyndham Franklin Plaza Hotel
Philadelphia

Theme - "NCFR" For Families . . . Fifty Years and Forever

Historical Vignette:

In 1938 a rabbi, a lawyer, and a sociologist met together to talk about beginning a new organization. On April 21, 1938, in Chicago, an organizational meeting for NCFR was held.

"The early leaders of the National Conference on Family Relations (as it was then called) envisioned an interprofessional forum to provide opportunities for individuals, organized groups and agencies interested in family life to plan and act together on concerns relevant to all forms of marriage and family relationships. To achieve this goal the NCFR selected National Conferences as the medium."

(p. 1, The National Council on Family Relations: A Fifty Year History)

The following is a quotation by David Fulcomer, an early leader who attended and planned those early conferences:

"One of the things that excited me in those early days was the amazing variety of professional persons from many disciplines and organizations that were involved in some way. I have said many times that I could not have found a nicer group of humans to know and work with over the years than those in NCFR - a very dedicated, kind, caring group of people."

Times have changed! For example:

The first annual convention was held September 17, 1938 at the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York City. The theme was "The Contribution of the Family to the Cultural Wealth of the Nation."

In 1949 the registration fee to attend NCFR's annual conference was $1.00, and the luncheon was $3.00, including tip and tax.

In 1950 the annual conference was held at the University of Denver. The registration fee was $3.00 for NCFR members, and rooms at the University cost $1.25-$2.00 per night.

The 1962 conference was held at the University of Connecticut. A two-bedroom suite with private bath was available at the Pleasant View Lodge Motel for $90.00 a week. Most conference delegates stayed in dormitories. The beds were extremely uncomfortable, signalling that the time was coming to start holding conferences in hotels.

The first conference which was held in a hotel was in 1964 at the Deauville Hotel, Miami Beach, FL. The full American plan at the hotel was $11.00 double daily.

One of the most memorable conferences happened in 1971 at the YMCA Camp of the Rockies in Estes Park, Colorado. Entire families came to the conference which was held in August that year. Meals were served "family" style, and the camp was filled with NCFR attendees and their families during the week. The focus of the conference was on family participation.

Special 50th Anniversary Events

Matti Gershenfeld and the anniversary committee have planned many fun events for the week of the conference. Come and join in the festivities.

Be sure to reserve your place at the banquet on the registration form.

Anniversary Luncheon

Wednesday, November 16, at 11:30 am, you are invited to attend the ' Anniversary Luncheon. Margaret Slingerland and her committee have planned this function to be "upbeat" and "light". W. WILSON GOODE
MAYOR

November 13, 1988

NATIONAL COUNCIL ON FAMILY RELATIONS
50TH Anniversary Conference
Wyndham Franklin Plaza Hotel
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

TO ALL IN ATTENDANCE:

As Mayor of Philadelphia, the nation's first Convention City, it is my pleasure to welcome members of the National Council on Family Relations, as you convene for the 50th Anniversary Conference, November 13-16, 1988, at the Wyndham Franklin Plaza Hotel.

Philadelphia is a city of ethnic diversity, with many neighborhoods created and maintained by close-knit family groups. I believe I speak for all our citizens when I say we are honored that a group such as yours, dedicated to a broad range of family concerns, including family health and therapy, and prevention of family violence, has chosen to meet in our city.

We hope your members will partake of the many exciting activities going on in Philadelphia in the fall. Please visit our cultural institutions along the Benjamin Franklin Parkway, our historic district at Independence Mall and our beautiful Fairmount Park--the world's largest landscaped park. We are also proud of the Philadelphia Zoo, the nation's first zoological garden and Penn's Landing, our City's maritime center.

My best wishes for a successful conference. I hope the members of the National Council on Family Relations will return home with many fond memories of our City.

Sincerely,

If an attendee wishes to receive a certificate of documentation for attendance at NCFR Conference sessions, please sign-up in the appropriate section of the conference registration form. A $10 fee is charged for administrative costs. The certificate verifies that the registrants attended the sessions. Clock hours are counted hour per hour of NCFR sessions attended. These certificates may be sent by the attendee to appropriate certifying agencies of many family organizations. For questions call the NCFR Conference Coordinator.

• Meet the Authors

Tuesday evening, from 5:00 to 6:30 pm, convention attendees have the opportunity to meet authors who have recently published books. Authors are seated at special tables in the Exhibits Area (Wyndham Ballroom) and attendees are encouraged to meet with them to discuss the books. Come, join your colleagues and visit the exhibits.

• Tax Deductibility

Current treasury regulations permit some income tax deduction for unreimbursed education expenses (registration fees, cost of travel, lodging and some meals). Contact your personal tax service to find out the amount allowed for your personal expenses.

• Types of Sessions Featured at NCFR

The NCFR Conference offers a variety of session types throughout the week. A brief description follows:

Plenary Sessions:

General sessions which may be attended by all registrants. Speakers explore various aspects of the Conference theme. No other sessions are scheduled during plenaries.

Section Meetings:

Concurrent sessions which are sponsored by NCFR's Sections. Registrants may attend any of the Section meetings during the specified times. It is necessary to choose one session each time. No pre-registration is necessary. Section membership is not a prerequisite for attendance at these sessions.

Distinguished Lectures:

General sessions during which time an expert on a given topic presents a lecture.

Poster Sessions:

A series of display presentations that allow face-to-face conversation between authors and viewers. Posters are set up near the Exhibits at four different times: Sunday - 11:30 am - 12:45 pm; Monday, 4:15 pm - 5:30 pm; Tuesday - 11:15 am - 12:30 pm and 2:30 - 3:45 pm. Authors of the posters will be present during these hours. The posters will remain in the exhibits area for an additional hour and a half after each session. Posters are set in numeric order. Registrants may visit as many posters as they wish during the allotted time periods.

Round Table Seminars:

A popular feature of the Conference designed to bring together small groups of people interested in discussing specific topics. Pre-registration and additional fees are necessary to attend Round Tables. The list of round tables is found on the enclosed registration form and in this program. Be sure to rank order 10 choices because these sessions fill fast. Requests are filled on a first-come-first serve basis, in order marked on the form.

• Silent Auction

NCFR members have generously donated time, services and other items such as books or mementos which will be auctioned off during the conference. There will be no formal auction session during the conference, but a bidding board will be prominently displayed at the hotel. Any person or organization can bid on any item until the bidding closes. Simply record your bid on the bidding board. The list of items to be auctioned will be sent to conference registrants prior to the convention. Payment for auction items must be made at the conference to the cashier at the NCFR Registration Desk. If you are a spokesperson for your institution please bring a P.O. Number or check from your institution.

AMERICAN SOCIOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION

ADDICTED FAMILIES . . . WILL YOU BE READY TO HELP?

More than one third of the families in this country will come face to face with someone's alcohol or drug abuse problem. A spouse, a parent . . . perhaps a beloved child will fall victim to the family disease of addiction.

Confused and concerned, these families will search for help, all the time afraid to confront the "real" problem.

When they realize that addiction is the number one problem, will you be ready to help? Do you have the resources within your grasp that can help this troubled family chart a course towards recovery? Can you open their eyes to see past the pain of addiction in order to create a vision of hope?

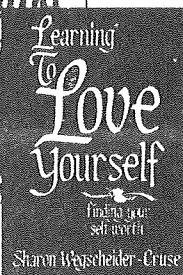

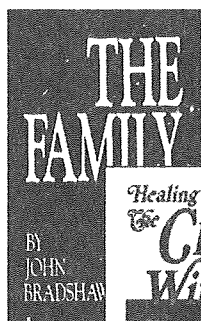

The U.S. Journal of Drug & Alcohol Dependence and its sister company, Health Communications, bring you the most comprehensive selection of educational materials and training opportunities on addictions and the family. For over a decade, our resources have enhanced the personal growth for thousands of adult children of alcoholics, and encouraged high caliber professional development for the counselors and therapists working with all types of troubled families.

Call or write us today for free samples of our magazines, a current catalogue of printed materials and details about upcoming conferences.

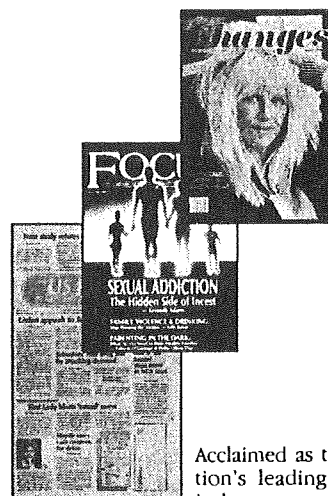

Creators of the National Convention on Children of Alcoholics (now in its fifth year), over 18 conferences a year are now offered on topics such as: Women, Intimate Relationships & Addiction; Co-dependency; Addiction Treatment; Parenting; and Adult Children of Alcoholics (and Others Who Identify). The 1989 National Convention on Children of Alcoholics is scheduled for Feb. 26-March 1, in Nashville, TN.

U.S. Journal Training is an approved CEU provider by several licensing boards and medical authorities.

In addition to the New York Times Bestseller, Adult Children of Alcoholics, our book division offers titles on: Co-Dependency; Family Recovery; Eating Disorders; Intimacy; Self-Esteem; Affirmations; Self-Discovery; Relationship Issues; Personal Growth; and New Age literature.

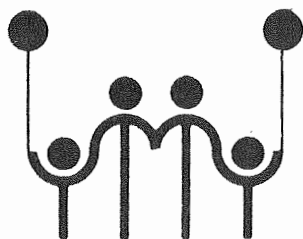

Acclaimed as the nation's leading trade industry newspaper in the alcoholism and drug abuse field, we also publish: FOCUS: On Chemically Dependent Families magazine for therapists and patient families; and CHANGES . . . the Magazine For And About Adult Children, which is also available through Waldenbooks and B. Dalton's Booksellers nationally.

A STRATEGY FOR STRENGTHENING FAMILIES:
USING FAMILY CRITERIA IN POLICYMAKING AND

A Report of
The Family Criteria Task Force
Theodora Ooms and Steven Preister, Editors

A Strategy for Strengthening Families: Using Family Criteria in Policymaking and Program Evaluation

The strength and wellbeing of society's most important institution, the family, are receiving increased attention. Policymakers from all parts of the political spectrum agree that family life is showing signs of serious stress and that families need more support. Child care, parental leave, child support enforcement, adolescent pregnancy and many other family issues are high on federal and state policy agendas. However, family considerations are still rarely addressed in the normal process of policymaking and policy analysis, whether at the federal, state, or local levels. Nor are the family unit and family relationships usually the focus of evaluation of social programs or policy analysis.

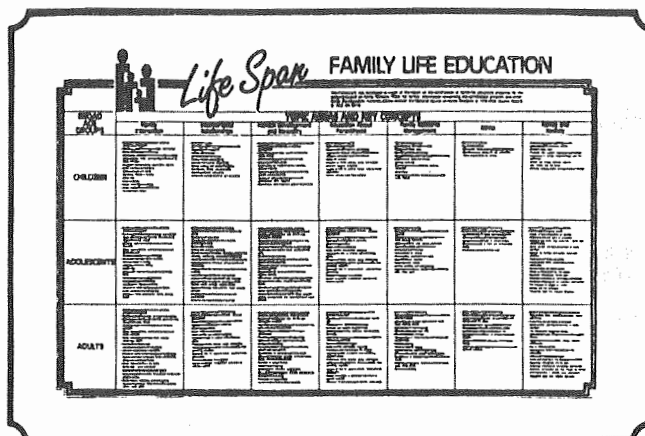

This monograph, written by the Family Criteria Task Force, an ad hoc working group of individuals, and published by the Family Impact Seminar, identifies criteria that can be used to assess the effects of proposed existing policies and programs on family life and wellbeing, and represents a political middle ground largely acceptable to both parties. The Report proposes six broad family principles to guide public policy and specifies a process, including checklists and family impact questions, that would assist in incorporating family criteria in program evaluation and policy analysis. It also applies these criteria to some specific public policy and program areas. The Report will assist federal, state, and local policymakers and program staff to design and implement social policies and programs to strengthen and support family life, and will also be helpful to those working in the non-profit and business sectors.
