NATIONAL COUNCIL ON FAMILY RELATIONS
1219 University Avenue, S. E.
Minneapolis 14, Minnesota

FILE COPY

March, 1961

Volume 6, No. 1

This Newsletter is devoted to the ballot, which you will find at the end of the issue, to news about the Annual Meeting; and to information about workshops and other events which are approaching. Because of a lack of space, most of the news from state and regional councils and about people will be held until the May Newsletter. That issue will also contain further Annual Meeting news. Perhaps some of you will want to send us information about your activities, your communities, and your councils for that issue. Why don't you mail it to us right along with your ballot, in the enclosed envelope?

We hope to see a great number of you at the Annual Meeting this August. Veon G. Smith and Hulda V. Garrett, who are local arrangements co-chairmen for the conference, have sent us a letter from which we quote the following exciting excerpts:

We are hoping that the attractions of Salt Lake City and the surrounding area will entice many to come to the Annual Meeting of the NCFR, scheduled for the University of Utah, Salt Lake City, August 23-25. "Salt Lake City has won renown among world travelers as one of the most beautiful and interesting cities on earth." In addition to the beautiful and rugged mountains, there are historic temple square, the famous Bingham Copper Mine, "largest surface copper mine in North America," and many resort areas for swimming and picnicing and mountain climbing. Also on the campus there are bowling, table tennis, billiards, pool, golf, and tennis.....We are planning an informal reception after the opening session on Wednesday evening.....An Alpine Loop trip and outdoor dinner are planned for Thursday afternoon and evening.....Arrangements for tours on Saturday, August 26, may be made at the time of registration or during the conference.....Meals will be available at the University Union Building Cafeteria at reasonable rates. Lunch a la carte will be served in the Union Building Panorama Room, which offers a magnificent view of the valley and mountains. The luncheons range in price from $.75 to $1.40. There are many excellent places to eat off campus and lists of places will be provided as well as a brochure of local attractions.

The Director of the Residence Halls would like to have housing arrangements made directly with his office. Correspondence should be addressed to: Director, Residence Halls, Ballif Hall, University of Utah, Salt Lake City 12, Utah.

Following is the information on rates: (Ballif Hall, men's dormitory)
Room with twin beds/double occupancy $2.50 per person per night.
Room with twin beds/single occupancy $3.75 per person per night.
Room with twin beds/bath/double occupancy $4.00 per person per night.

Units for Families:

Large rooms with four beds $1.50 per person per night.
Children under 12 charged two-thirds rate.
Families of three or more charged three-fourths total rate for the family.

Maid service is available for an additional $.75 per day. Service facilities are -- washing machines, dryers, irons, mail service, and parking lot.

We will be glad to furnish lists and rates of hotels and motels which are within a few miles of the university. Delegates desiring this information should write us directly, at the Marriage and Family Counseling Bureau, 336 Orson Spencer Hall, Univ. of Utah.

You will find enclosed with the Newsletter an attractive brochure from Utah. We do hope many of you will want to build a vacation trip around the Utah Annual Meeting! Elsewhere in this issue we are including a form which we would be happy to have you return to us, indicating that you are planning to attend.

Registration for the Annual Meeting will begin Wednesday afternoon, August 23rd. At the opening plenary session Wednesday evening, an outstanding speaker will give an address on "Difference, Tolerance, and Cooperation." This will be followed by a social hour.

In addition to the opening session, there will be three other plenary sessions. One will be a panel discussion on "Religious Differences," with selected representatives of the Jewish, Catholic, Protestant, and Mormon faiths. Another will be a panel discussion on "Ethical Differences." Henry Bowman and one other (selected by him) will represent the conventional-traditional position. Walter Stokes and one other (selected by him) will represent the radical-progressive position. The third plenary session will be devoted to a discussion of "Ideological Differences." A speaker will talk about "The Soviet Family System" and two discussants will represent the Western approach. Time will be allowed during the conference for groups to discuss these sessions.

Since many films of great interest to NCFR members are now available, we have invited Curtis E. Avery, Director, the E. C. Brown Trust, Portland, Oregon, to be in charge of film showings during the conference, and to lead discussions on evaluating and using them.

The Section Chairmen are working diligently to line up speakers you won't want to miss. Following is news about their meetings.

RE-ORGANIZATION OF NCFR SECTION STRUCTURE

The Sub-Committee on Sections, following its instructions from the Executive Committee, made a study of the structure and functions of the sections in NCFR, reported the study, and submitted recommendations to the Board of Directors.

In reviewing the history of the sections, it was discovered that some have functioned much more actively and effectively than others. There are sections now in existence which were not present at the beginning of the organization. There are some sections which did exist originally which have become completely inactive. Some sections have sponsored projects all through the year and others have considered their primary and sometimes only function that of getting together a program for the Annual Meeting.

Evaluations of Annual Meetings revealed that there are numerous complaints and suggestions regarding the functioning of the sections. Some individuals felt that there were many uninspired programs; while others experienced frustrations when several different sections were holding meetings simultaneously.

Questionnaires were sent to all past Section Chairmen and other past officers of the NCFR, asking them to respond to questions regarding the structure of sections in the light of their experience. After analyzing the questionnaires, considering the evaluations of Annual Meetings, and taking into account the basic purposes of the NCFR, the Committee recommended to the Board of Directors at the Annual Meeting in August, 1960, that NCFR be re-organized into four major sections of professional interest, as follows:

Research

Focusing on all facets of family relations and covering the life cycle.

Education

From nursery education through schools, colleges, and adult education.

Counseling

Dealing with all facets from child guidance to old age.

Special Emphases

This would include any areas which could not conceivably be included in the above three groups plus the framework in which potentially new sections or subject matter areas could initiate their offerings, make their contributions, and test out their potential future as a section.

The Board of Directors accepted this report at the August, 1960 meeting, and the proposed reorganization will go into effect immediately after the August, 1961 meeting.

Blaine M. Porter, Chairman
Sub-Committee on Sections

THE 1961 E. W. BURGESS AWARD

At the Annual Meeting to be held in Utah in August, separate awards will be made for the best published research article, during 1959 and 1960; and for the best published monograph on the family, during those two years. Members of the Burgess Award Committee include: Gerald R. Leslie, Purdue University, Chairman; Robert Bell, Department of Sociology, Temple University; Judson Landis, University of California at Berkely; Donald Brieland, Director of Children's Services, State of Illinois; and Mirra Komarovsky, Barnard College. Winners of the awards will receive certificates to be presented at the Annual Meeting in Salt Lake City.

NCFR MEMBERSHIP DIRECTORIES

Copies of the NCFR Membership Directory, separate from the journal but with the same type of cover, may be ordered from the NCFR office by NCFR members for $1.50. Order now, while the supply lasts!

If there were any mistakes made in the Directory, please let us know, so that we may make corrections.

COMMITTEE ON INTERNATIONAL LIAISON

Evelyn Duvall, chairman, reports that the committee on International Liaison is exploring the possibility of a World Family Year (paralleling the world-wide observance of the Geophysical Year). The Paris office of the International Union of Family Organizations has been approached. She has seen the Honorable Adlai Stevenson, and has written him a follow-up at his post as United States Ambassador to United Nations, asking his help in finding proper channels for official backing of such a project. The tentative plan is, upon encouragement through UN and/or UNESCO, to invite other internationally interested agencies with a family focus to work with us to define the scope, design and possible programming of a World Family Year. Reactions and suggestions from all members of the National Council on Family Relations are sought especially now before plans are too far along. Write directly to Evelyn Duvall, chairman, or to Esther Middlewood or John Moge, members, Committee on International Liaison.

INTERNATIONAL UNION OF FAMILY ORGANIZATIONS

The 1961 Session of the International Union of Family Organizations will take place in Madrid, July 10-16. This session will include on the one hand an International Conference, and, on the other the General Assembly, which will meet Friday, July 14. The General Assembly meets every four years. The Assembly consists of all the members of the Union, only active members having the right to vote. Each member organization may be represented by two delegates and two proxies. The International Conference on the Family will study "The Work of the Mother in and outside the Home." U. S. NCFR members listed under "Composition du Conseil Général de l'Union," IUFO, include Pat Crowley, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Irving A. DeBlanc, Evelyn M. Duvall, and Judson T. Landis.

The Commission on Parent-Teacher Relations, International Union of Family Organizations, announces that an International Study Session on the role of parents and teachers in school and vocational guidance was held in Brussels, January 27, 28, and 29, 1961.

The next session of the Commission on Marriage Guidance of the IUFO will take place in London, June 22-25, 1961. The topic will be The First Five Years of Marriage.
