MAN and WOMAN the basics of sex and marriage By Karl Wrage, M.D.

CHILDREN/CHOICE or CHANCE By Karl Wrage, M.D.

"... Dr. Wrage writes clearly and with good sense, keeping in healthy balance the physical, emotional and spiritual aspects of the marriage relationship within a religious framework that is neither narrow nor constricting but responsible and liberating..."-P.W.

"This is a book of rare quality. It provides a full, accurate, and up-to-date treatment of all the physical aspects of sex and reproduction. But it does far more; it integrates this material with an unusually sensitive understanding of the emotional, ethical, and spiritual components of the manwoman relationship. The book is beautifully printed and bound, and the illustrations and diagrams are exceptionally clear and helpful. I know of no other volume to compare with Man and Woman-it is in a class by itself."-David R, Mace, author of Success in Marriage $8.75 A forthright guide to family planning-rhythm, contraceptive devices, the pill, abortion, starility and improving fertility. "An articulate and humane physician says almost all there is to say on the subject, combining medical, psychological, religious and moral considerations in an unusually lucid and helpful way." —Harvey Cox

IMPORTANT ALDINE TITLES ON THE FAMILY

THE PSYCHOLOSOCIAL INTERIOR OF THE FAMILY: A Sourcebook for the Study of Whole Families

edited by Gerald Handel, City University of New York

"The volume will contribute toward a more comprehensive picture of family life, a subject of immense importance which has received far less attention than it deserves."-Family Life.

An interdisciplinary sourcebook providing the first composite study of whole families and the complex interplay between self and family, this book presents efforts to study families as whole units, integrating data obtained from all the members of a family rather then one or two members. It is a pioneering compendium and vital reference for students of marriage and the family. 560 pp. $10.75

INFANT CARE IN AN URBAN COMMUNITY

John and Elizabeth Newson, University of Nottingham

The authors are undertaking an unprecedented descriptive study of child-rearing from infancy through adolescence with volumes reporting on their findings to be published at regular intervals. This is the first of their reports and it covers the complete spectrum of a child's first year in a typical English urban community, going back even before the child's birth to the mother's attitudes toward children and childbirth. Social class is carefully considered as a differentiating factor and each mother is identified as to her husband's occupation and her education. The volume represents a revealing look into contemporary child-rearing practices. 268 pp. $6.75.

FOUR YEARS OLD IN AN URBAN COMMUNITY

John and Elizabeth Newson

"The achievement of this book, as with its predecessor, remains substantial. It provides a vivid and unique record of the four-year-old, his clashes, his interactions, and his involvement with his perents."-The Times Literary Supplement.

This second volume in the Newson's study details the life of the four year old—the streets and street-friendships, backyards and neighbors, home and family, and the child's relationship with his parents and in particular with his mother. The purpose of the study is to build as complete a picture as possible of the child in his natural setting, to build an equally clear picture of the mother's behavior as it is observable and as she views it, and to detect patterns in the data from which valid conclusions may be drawn, 560 pp, $9.75.
