TELEGRAM TO SENATOR MONDALE

Following the Annual Meeting in Toronto in October, the following telegram, signed by all members of the Executive Committee, was sent to Senator Walter Mondale (D-Minnesota).

"We applaud and support your efforts in recognizing and bringing to the attention of Congress and the American public the impact on families of government policies, both proposed and enacted. There has been no family advocate, and issues regarding the Family have been neglected and overlooked. We offer our assistance and expertise in making the family a national concern."

NCFR SECTIONS ORGANIZATIONAL MEETINGS

According to the revised Constitution, adopted by the NCFR membership March 1, 1973, Sections of the Council are: Counseling, Education, Family Action, and Research and Theory. Additional Sections may be created by the submission of a statement of purpose and a petition signed by at least 5% of the general membership and approved by the Board.

The Sections held organizational meetings during the 1973 NCFR Annual Meeting in Toronto, to discuss purposes and by-laws, officers, and programs. A form is enclosed with this Newsletter on which Section membership preferences may be indicated. Please return it as soon as possible, to assist the Section chairpersons in their plans. Information about each Section follows.

RESEARCH AND THEORY

Several issues were decided at the first planning meeting, chaired by outgoing chairperson, Joan Aldous.

The 30 persons present voted that the dues for the first year be $3.00 for regular members and $1.50 for student members. The persons present served as the nominating committee for the positions of Secretary/Treasurer and Vice Chairperson. The persons nominated will be contacted and the election will take place as soon as a roster of members is provided by NCFR. The term will be for 2 years and will end after the 1975 NCFR Annual Meeting.

In order to make a smoother transition between terms, it was proposed that the chairperson-elect be chosen one year in advance and serve as a non-voting member of the group. The current chairperson is David Olson, Family Social Science, McNeal Hall, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, Minnesota 55101, who will serve until the end of the 1975 NCFR Annual Meeting. It was left open whether the chairperson would organize the next Annual Meeting or appoint a Program Chairperson.

The major responsibility of the officers of the Section will be to prepare the by-laws for the Section and to begin initiating projects of interest to the members. Two of the projects already planned for next year's annual meeting are the continuation of the successful Pre-Conference Workshop on Theory, which was organized the last two years by Wesley Burr, and will be handled this year by Darwin Thomas, and a Demonstration of Interaction Techniques, which will be organized by David Reiss.

Please indicate your interests in possible Section projects listed on the accompanying form.

FAMILY ACTION

The organizational meeting was chaired by incoming chairperson, Sharon Price-Bonham, Department of Child and Family Development, University of Georgia, Athens, Georgia 30601.

It was decided by those people present that Sharon Price-Bonham would appoint an executive committee to help her until, at least, the time the Section has officers elected. The primary purpose of this committee will be to aid her in developing specific purposes and goals of the Family Action Section. She is in the process of contacting people to see if they will serve on this committee.

A nominating committee, consisting of James Lieberman, Mary Heltsley, and Sharon Price-Bonham, was formed to nominate a slate of officers for the positions of Vice-Chairperson and Secretary-Treasurer for the Family Action Section.

Dues for the Family Action Section were set at $2.00 per regular member and $1.00 per student member.

Sharon Price-Bonham would like to hear from members and prospective members of the Family Action Section regarding what they would like to see this particular section involved in. This is extremely important so that purposes and goals for the Section may be delineated. She would also appreciate knowing if people are interested in working in the Section, and if so, if there are any particular jobs they would like. For example, the Section presently has several active task forces which include: 1) Divorce and Divorce Reform; 2) Alternative Life Styles; 3) Population and Family Planning; 4) Family Assistance Programs; 5) Rights of Mentally Handicapped; 6) Women's Rights and Responsibilities; 7) A National Family Institute; 8) Student Representation; and 9) Effect of Labor, Industry, and Business on the Family. If anyone would like to work on any of these task forces, please contact her. The Section also desperately needs people who are interested at both the state and national level in legislation which could affect the family. In addition, if anyone has any ideas regarding the program for the Annual Meeting next year, please contact Sharon Price Bonham.

COUNSELING

The organizational meeting of the NCFR Counseling Section was called to order by Fred Humphrey, acting chairperson. Issues considered included the following: Qualifications for membership will be on the basis of interest, at least until the next Annual Meeting. Before that time a steering committee will be formed to firm up qualifications for membership to replace this temporary statement. The chairperson of the Counseling Section was authorized to appoint a committee to formulate the by-laws six months prior to the next meeting. Such by-laws will include statements on dues and fees, to be acted on at that time. The May Newsletter will be used to circulate this information. Dues until a final decision is made will be $3 for regular members and $1 for students.

The following persons were nominated for office until the St. Louis Annual Meeting: Herbert Laube, University of Minnesota, Vice-Chairperson; Patricia Judy, Michigan State University, Secretary-Treasurer; Clinton Phillips, J. Ross Eshleman, and E. M. Rallings, Nominating Committee.

Section Chairperson is Edward Rydman, 12651 Croydon Circle, Dallas, Texas 75230.

EDUCATION

The Education Section gathered information from two sources on what those interested in the Education Section desire. At each Education Section session at the Annual Meeting a questionnaire was circulated, which asked questions pertaining to Section structure and function. The other source of information was the organizing Section meeting held during the Annual Meeting in Toronto.

One hundred seventeen completed questionnaires were returned. Of the number, 92 expressed an interest in affiliating with the Education Section. Dues will be $3.00 for regular members and $1.00 for students. The dues monies will be used to cover the costs of proposed newsletters, postage, clerical expenses, etc.

Those interested in the Education Section, based on questionnaire responses, felt the major activities of the Section should be to:

- 1) Share information on effective methods and materials;
- 2) help in the coordination of educational-research-practical experiences;
- 3) share information on new programs and processes;
- 4) improve the teaching of family relations, making specific the competencies needed for family life educators, and the competencies needed by family members;
- 5) develop strategies for evaluation of present education programs;
- 6) plan relevant Annual Meeting sessions;
- 7) promote interchange between teachers, primarily through a newsletter.

The organizational meeting was called to order by outgoing chairperson, Ned Gaylin, and then turned over to Sander Latts, incoming chairperson. Besides getting acquainted and getting commitments for committee assignments, the meeting focused on a discussion of next year's program. The group was in general agreement that formal presentations are not an effective means for sharing information. There was much more acceptance of the concepts of discussion, dialogue and process demonstrations.

Most of the Section session meetings at the next Annual Meeting will focus on issues facing the family life educator. These topics may include: the teaching of values; the role of research and theory in family life education; the affective and cognitive aspects of family life education; the teaching of family life to special non-school groups; effective evaluation of family life education. Departing somewhat from the practices of the past, the Program committee will contact persons they would like to have participate in the Section sessions.

At least one or two Section sessions will be specifically devoted to hearing innovative approaches to Family Life Education from persons wishing to present. Persons who are accepted by other Sections WILL NOT be allowed to present to the Education Section. Anyone wishing to be considered for next year's meeting should contact the chairperson: Sander Latts, 30 Nicholson Hall, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minnesota 55455. The Section's Program co-chairpersons are the Robert Keims, Department of Home Economics, Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, Illinois 60115. By-Laws committee chairperson is Dorothy Martin. Anyone interested in receiving more information about the Section is urged to contact one of the above named persons.

SPECIAL EMPHASES

1973-74 is the last year in which the Special Emphases Section will function. Chairperson Robert Staples announces that the Special Emphases Section theme is "Positive Values in Culturally Diverse Families." Papers that describe or analyze the strengths of minority families in the U.S. will be welcomed. Also, he would appreciate information on what is happening locally in St. Louis with minority families. Contact him at: Graduate Program in Sociology, Department of Social and Behavioral Sciences, University of California, San Francisco, California 94143.

THE ANNUAL MEETING

The attendance at the 1973 Annual Meeting in Toronto was 953, the largest number in history. The 1974 Conference in St. Louis, Missouri, will be held jointly with the American Association of Marriage and Family Counselors. The proposed theme is "The Art and Science of Intimacy and Loving." Gerhard Neubeck, General Program Chairperson, is attempting to make maximum use of the creative arts, both in the Section meetings and the plenary sessions.

The Proceedings from the 1973 NCFR Annual Meeting are available from the NCFR Office for $2.00 per copy. Abstracts of most of the papers that were given at the Conference are included.

GRADUATE PROGRAMS IN THE FAMILY: STUDENT PERSPECTIVES

The second edition is now available for $2.00 from the NCFR office. It contains descriptions of 28 programs compiled from statements of the graduate students pursuing degrees in the programs. The new edition has been almost completely rewritten, includes more universities than the earlier edition, and overall presents a more integrated viewpoint of the respective degree programs. For students or faculty interested in a perspective not usually offered in departmental fact sheets, this may be a quite helpful document.

NCFR EDU-TAPES

Edu-Tapes were made of several presentations at the 1973 Annual Meeting: "The Family Cluster" by Bruce Pringle; "Couples for Marriage Enrichment" by David Mace; "Aging in the Kibbutz" by Sara Taubin; "The Old Order Amish" by Elmer Schwieler; "Personal Freedom in Intimate Interpersonal Relationships" by Judith D'Augelli; "Divorce, Custody and the Fragmented Family" by Julie Fulton; "Single Motherhood, a New Life Style: Implications for the Personal Freedom of the Mother, Father, and Child" by Joyce Pattison; "Theoretical Issues Concerning Family Power Relationships" by Ronald Cromwell; "Authority, Power and Influence in the Japanese-American Family" by Colleen Johnson; "Uses and Abuses of Power in the Study of the Family" by James Turk; "The Legal, Moral and Humanistic Dimensions of the Family Life and Sexual Education 'Bag'" by H. H. Guest, Tom Frankum, Aaron Tilton, and Jane Burgess; "Components of a Successful Marriage" by Gerhard Neubeck, James and Marguerite Maddock; "Leveling, Civility and Violence in the Family" by Murray Straus; "Instructing as Role Making" by Gail Thoen, Gail Peterson, Martha Russell, Robert Phillips, Richard Hey, Robert Herron; "Eroticism as a Norm" by Mary Calderone; "Parents' Response to Children's Sexual Formation: Conscious and Unconscious Sex Education" by Leah Schaefer; "Anti-family Forces Among Professionals" by Joan and Larry Constantine, Carl Ridley; and "The Anti-Family Movement" by Robert Whitehurst. To order, use the form mailed each NCFR member in November.

NEW COMMITTEE APPOINTMENTS

Publications Committee: Collette Carisse, University of Montreal and Vladimir de Lissoy, Pennsylvania State University have joined Felix Berardo, Roger Rubin, and Jacqueline Wiseman as members.

Membership Committee: Donald Longworth, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, Texas 79406, has accepted the chairmanship of this committee.

CONGRESS OF AFFILIATED COUNCILS

In addition to the Burgess, Osborne, and Student Awards, the Distinguished Service Award has been established, and will be administered by the Congress of Affiliated Councils. This award will be given in recognition of distinguished service to the field of family relations, in such areas as leadership, program planning, project direction, public relations, community or adult education (exclusive of university teaching), liaison with professional and other groups, counseling, business leadership and similar activities. Any individual or group in a local, state, or regional affiliated council may nominate a recipient. The first award will be granted at the 1974 NCFR Annual Meeting. Nominations may be sent to Ron Pitzer, 840 19th Avenue Southeast, Minneapolis, Minnesota 55414, Chairperson of the Congress of Affiliated Councils.

Beginning with 1974 memberships, affiliated councils may receive a "rebate" of $1.00 for each member (excluding student and emeritus members) of that council who is also a member of the NCFR. This could easily result in an income to local, state, and regional councils of many dollars.

Under the new NCFR Constitution, the Congress of Affiliated Councils is responsible for electing to the NCFR Board representatives from each NCFR geographic region. These newly elected representatives are listed on page 5 of this Newsletter.

AFFILIATED COUNCILS

THE ALABAMA COUNCIL ON FAMILY RELATIONS will hold its Annual Meeting at the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, on March 17-19, 1974, meeting jointly with the SOUTHEASTERN COUNCIL. Program co-chairpersons Joseph Rowland and Mary Catherine Beasley announce that the theme will be "Business - Industry and Its Impact on the Family". Throughout the conference the idea will be explored that "the business community has no higher priority--no better investment--than the strengthening of family life." Contact G. Ross Bell, Family Court of Jefferson County, 120 2nd Court North, Birmingham, Alabama 36104.

ATTENTION, STUDENT MEMBERS OF NCFR

This is your opportunity to vote for your 1975-1976 representatives to the NCFR Executive Committee and Board of Directors. The four students whose names and vitas are included below have been selected by a nominating committee for this election. Each of these persons has indicated a desire to participate in this capacity and to serve your interests on the policy-making bodies of the organization. You are to select two of these nominees for this responsibility and the person receiving the highest number of votes will be a member of the Executive Committee and the person receiving the second highest number will be a member of the Board. Both will serve a year's apprenticeship to these bodies before becoming voting members during the second year of their term of office. (Your 1974 voting representatives are Dennis Orthner, Executive Committee, and Robert Jackson, Board. Charles Figley and Barbara Francis are apprentices and will become voting members in 1975.)

Please note that only students may vote for the student representatives to the Executive Committee and Board of Directors. Indicate your two choices on the official ballot (over), and return in the attached envelope.

BOWER, DONALD W.

Donald Bower is a graduate student working toward a Master's degree in the Division of Child Development and Family Relations at the University of Arizona. He is an honors graduate of Denison University where he majored in sociology. He is a research assistant in his graduate studies and also served in that capacity as well as being a teacher assistant and counselor at Denison. He has co-authored several papers on premarital cohabitation including one read at the last NCFR meeting, "Intimacy Among Cohabiting Couples."

Donald Bower has been an Executive Committee student representative to the Ohio Council on Family Relations and Chapter President of the Alpha Kappa Delta at Denison. His objectives are to teach and carry on research at the university level, to become a qualified therapist, and counselor, and to contribute to the study of emerging family life styles.

BRUBAKER, TIMOTHY H.

Timothy Brubaker is a first year Ph.D. student in the Department of Sociology and Anthropology at Iowa State University. His emphases are in social gerontology and the family and he has received a graduate fellowship from the Midwest Council for Social Research in Aging for next year. At present, he is a teaching assistant offering a course in Courtship and Marriage as well as working on a longitudinal study in aging.

Timothy Brubaker received his B.A. degree in Sociology from Bethel College, St. Paul, Minnesota, and his M.A. degree from Central Missouri State University, with an emphasis on deviance and sociological theory. He was an instructor in Sociology at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pennsylvania, for two years where he taught courses on the family and other subjects. He also worked with the Missouri State Probation and Parole Office for a year. His past research and writing has concentrated in the area of deviance including a forthcoming article on "The Differential Cultural Milieu of Drug Users and Its Implications."

MALASHOCK, RONALD S.

Ronald Malashock is a first year graduate student in the Department of Human Development and Family Studies at Cornell University. He is working toward a Ph.D. with a major concentration in Child and Family Psychopathology. His B.A. degree was awarded with honors from California State College, Sonoma. He presently holds a teaching assistantship and has developed with a faculty member a Seminar in Family Psychopathology. He has co-authored a paper, "Thought Concordance in Emotionally-Linked Couples" which was presented at the Western Psychology Conference for Undergraduate Research.

Ronald Malashock's experience indicates a strong interest and concern for child and family therapy. He has been a supervisor of students at a camp for delinquent boys, a crisis counselor in a family information center, a tutor and counselor for disadvantaged and retarded children. In addition, he has participated in various training programs in family and group counseling.

MC LESTER, CAROL

Carol McLester is a Ph.D. level graduate student in the Department of Child Development and Family Relations at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. She has been a graduate assistant and a teaching assistant with responsibilities for a course in Developmental Patterns of the Family. In addition to her studies, she serves as Local Mental Health Area Unit Coordinator in Reidsville, North Carolina. She co-authored and presented a paper at the last NCFR meeting, entitled, "Empathic Intergenerational Education."

Carol McLester has been an active participant in both the Groves Conference on the Family and the Southeastern Council on Family Relations. She served as research consultant for the Committee on Divorce for the Family Life Council of Greater Greensboro and has taught the Minnesota Couples Communication Program under the sponsorship of the Family Life Council. One of her primary areas of interest is family life education with special emphasis on various teaching techniques, particularly the empathatic approach.
