4 "No-Nonsense" Films on Human Sexuality from Wiley.

Achieving Sexual Maturity deals with male and female sexual anatomy, physiology, and behavior from conception through adulthood. It uses explicit, live photography of nude adult males and females to explain sexual anatomy—and uses graphics and diagrams to explain internal anatomy. The film moves through conception, embryonic development, early childhood, puberty, adolescence, and adulthood. It also treats masturbation as a normal sexual activity and uses live photography to show masturbation in both sexes.

16mm, Super-8mm/color/sound 21 min.
$280.00 (16mm) $250.00 (Super-8mm)

The Sexually Mature Adult covers the physiology and emotions involved in mature sexual behavior during the four stages of sexual intercourse—excitement, plateau, orgasmic, and resolution. It uses live photography to show responses of individual couples in each stage of lovemaking. Animated diagrams illustrate internal responses. It concludes with a look at continuing sexual relationships in older men and women.

16mm, Super-8mm/color/sound 16 min.
$220.00 (16mm) $190.00 (Super-8mm)

Contraception emphasizes the need for contraception during intercourse and explains the advantages, disadvantages, and comparative effectiveness of currently available techniques. The film shows the various kinds of condoms, diaphragms, IUDs and oral contraceptives. It explains how they work, and uses live photography to illustrate their use.

16mm, Super-8mm/color/sound 23 min.
$295.00 (16mm) $265.00 (Super-8mm)

Venereal Diseases emphasizes the confidential nature of treatment for the diseases at a clinic and shows the need for VD to be accepted as a "normal" disease. The film shows the causes, symptoms, and treatment for gonorrhea and syphilis using live photography examinations of male and female patients. It concludes with a group of young people discussing how they can protect themselves against VD, detect symptoms, and seek treatment.

16mm, Super-8mm/color/sound 17 min.
$220.00 (16mm) $190.00 (Super-8mm)

Also Available: COLOR SLIDES from Wiley. They'll help you get across such hard-to-explain concepts as human reproduction, human development, endocrine function, human genetics, control mechanisms, and neural biology.

Oxford announces a new edition of an outstanding text...

The Family in Social Context

Third Edition

GERALD R. LESLIE, University of Florida. □ Now in its Third Edition, The Family in Social Context remains an authoritative and highly readable analysis of the contemporary American family system. While continuing to provide extensive coverage of cross-cultural and historical material, the text has been revised to reflect significant changes in American society since the first edition was published.

New material includes a chapter on black families that incorporates the recent scholarship of black social scientists followed by a chapter on Mexican American, Japanese American, and Cuban American families. A chapter on alternative life styles examines the influences of the youth contraculture of the 1960s and 1970s upon families and provides the most comprehensive treatment of group marriages and communes to be found in any family textbook. Another new chapter on the status of women considers the consequences of sexism in American society.

The text concludes with eight chapters organized in a life-cycle framework containing a wealth of detail on the functioning of contemporary families in the experience of people from adolescence through old age.

January 1976 700 pp. figs. and tables cloth, prob. $12.95

A complimentary booklet, Objective Tests for THE FAMILY IN SOCIAL CONTEXT, is available with the text.

MASCULINE/FEMININE OR HUMAN? An Overview of the Sociology of Sex Roles

By Janet Saltzman Chafetz, University of Houston

This widely adopted text on sex roles has been adopted by several hundred universities in such diverse courses as principles, marriage and family stratification, social psychology and, of course, sex roles.

"An outstanding, subtle, and insightful text—one of the best in the in the field."

Warren Farrell, Brooklyn College

Provides an introductory-level overview of all aspects of the emerging subject area of sociology of sex roles. Both the masculine and feminine roles, especially as they have developed in contemporary America, are examined in relation to the possible emergence of a social concept that sees man as neither masculine nor feminine, but human. 1974, 242 pages, $4.25 paper

CURRENT PSYCHOTHERAPIES

Edited by Raymond J. Corsini

Each of twelve chapters was written by an expert following a common format including history, theory, personality, psychotherapy, applications, case examples, and summary.

Because of the common format setting limits to sixteen sections in each chapter, plus rigorous editing to meet needs of students and professionals, each chapter is a compact summary of the current status of each of twelve major schools of thought in psychotherapy. 1973, 502 pages, 2-column, $8.95 paper

Sage Publications is proud to announce the first title in a new monograph series published in cooperation with the National Council on Family Relations:

RICHARD J. GELLES

The Violent Home: A Study of Physical Aggression Between Husbands and Wives
Foreword by Murray Straus

Using in-depth interviews, Gelles examines the incidence, types and causes of physical violence between husbands and wives. Educational background, occupational situation and economic status are analyzed—as are the dynamics of family violence.

This is the first title in the NCFR Monograph Series, emphasizing research, analysis, and theory relating to sociology and interpersonal relations of the family. It is volume 13 in the Sage Library of Social Research.

How does THE CONTEMPORARY FAMILY cope with the signs of our times?

16mm color films exploring that question:

FATHER/DAUGHTER

In documentary style, interview fragments reveal the fine lines of a deep relationship between a father and a daughter. Although on different wave-lengths, the two keep in touch while the daughter seeks to find her own answers to life after being asked to leave home because of her use of drugs.
10 min., Purchase $150

FIRST YEAR A.D.

What happens in the first year after divorce? Two people find that signing papers does not release them from the need of some kind of relationship, be it a new and different kind, for the benefit of their son. The realization comes after the boy reacts to their estrangement with asthma attacks.
14 min., Purchase $185

NOBODY IMPORTANT

"Nobody cares about anybody at our house." The weight of these words from a seven-year-old child opens a door to honest confrontation and real communication between his parents after they search for and find the child when he manages to leave home unnoticed during one of their arguments.
11 min., Purchase $150

SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The medium of mime provides a glimpse of the mechanical role-playing of two young marrieds going through their Saturday routine. They shed their painted faces and become "real" when they dispense with rituals, truly respond to their child, and become vulnerable to each other.
11 min., Purchase $150

THE GOOD, GOOD, GOOD LIFE

A musical spoof of the bright, plastic, credit-card world of our consumer-based culture. Clashing value systems emerge between a widower and his well-intentioned family when they outline for him all the "necessities" of the GOOD LIFE they feel will help him "catch" a wife.
11 min., Purchase $150

CHECK-IN TIME

A young girl's struggle to trust a father trying to cope with an alcoholism problem...the father's frustration with the tensions of anxiety and doubt created by that situation...create an emotion-charged relationship which is sensitively portrayed in this mini-drama.

Come See a New Early Childhood Educational Program

The Haunting House, a seventeen-part multimedia curriculum for five-to-seven year olds, is on display in the Book Exhibit.

Through experiences of building and living in homes - making homes for special things, animals, themselves and others and taking part in the living and dying that happens in them - children move from being at home with themselves, their family, friends and community to feeling at home in their world. Look through the Lesson Plans for sessions on human sexuality Our First Home, consultant, deryck calderwood and a unit on Death, a haunting question.

Designed for team teaching in an open education setting, The Haunting House by Barbara Hollerorth includes song and creative movement books, filmstrips, puzzles and paper dolls created especially for the program as well as supplemental aids from other publishers. $99.00, total curriculum

THE DYNAMIC FAMILY
BY SHIRLEY G. LUTHMAN, L.C.S.W.
AND MARTIN KIRSCHENBAUM, PH.D.

THE DYNAMIC FAMILY is a basic, practical, and definitive text on Family Therapy. The authors, former students of Virginia Satir, draw not only from her teachings, but also from their own experiences and findings as co-therapists in their Family Therapy Institute of Marin in San Rafael, California.

The book deals with treatment concepts, various techniques, the basis of change, the practical training of family therapists, the on-going development and nurturance of the therapist himself, plus examples, anecdotes, and case histories from real-life situations dealt with by Ms. Luthman and Dr. Kirschenbaum.

The book is published by Science & Behavior Books of Palo Alto, California. Price – $7.95.

THE JOURNAL OF THE FAMILY THERAPY INSTITUTE OF MARIN-- edited by Martin Blinder, M.D.

FAMILY THERAPY is a clinical journal devoted to the practice of family, group, and other interactional therapies. The articles selected reflect the multifaceted approach to treatment for which the Family Therapy Institute is known. Original manuscripts for the journal can be submitted to Martin Blinder, Editor, Family Therapy Institute of Marin, 1353 Lincoln, San Rafael, CA 94901. The journal is published by Libra Publishers of Roslyn Heights, N.Y. 11572.

CONTINUUM BOOKS/THE SEABURY PRESS

Sex can be simple—in an unreal world where religious or secular authorities confidently define sexual roles and specify acceptable acts.

But in the real world, where sexuality is intimately connected with every aspect of personality and emotional growth—it's far more complex.

"We must," writes Richard Hettlinger, "recognize that sexuality involves the basic fabric of our lives and that the adequacy or inadequacy of our sexual self-understanding affects our roles as students, our careers, our social relationships, family status, and emotional health."

The publication of Richard Hettlinger's latest book, Sex Isn't That Simple, celebrates the continued success and critical acclaim accorded the author's previous works:

"Hettlinger's Living With Sex was good; but his new book is even better... College students, specialists in human sexuality, and even mature adults will enjoy reading and discussing Hettlinger's points of view."

Library Journal

"I like the book enormously... This thoughtful, well documented book is a splendid exercise in this area which to today's young people is such a vital one. It is a maturing book, for it serves to dissipate the sex-is-just-for-fun and orgasm-every-time myths."

Dr. Mary Calderone

"Richard Hettlinger is readily accepted as one of America's leading sex educators. He is a knowledgeable and provocative writer who has gained the respect and admiration of students and educators across the nation."

Dr. James Leslie McCary, author of Human Sexuality
