GENERAL INFORMATION

HOSPITALITY SUITE. The Minnesota Council on Family Relations is sponsoring a Hospitality Suite, located in a Cabana Parlor next to the pool on the Mezzanine level of the hotel. There is a bank of escalators which will take you directly to this area. This is the get-acquainted place for first timers and old timers. If you want to meet other delegates, the Minnesota Council will help you find friends.

CHILD CARE. There are two licensed facilities near the hotel. The YWCA is located next door to the Radisson Hotel. The hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. The Children's Hospital is located 6 blocks from the Radisson Hotel. This facility is open until midnight. Please sign up on the registration form accompanying this program. The deadline is September 20.

TAPES. Wilbur D. Hutchinson, Bridgeport, Illinois, will tape all major sessions — Plenaries, Master Lectures, Sections, and some Pre-Conference Workshops. Tapes will be available for sale immediately after each session and throughout the conference. The cost is $6.00 per tape. All tapes are of professional quality and fully guaranteed. The display is located in the registration area.

MESSAGE CENTER. The message center provides an opportunity for those attending the Annual Meeting to contact others. There are message pads at the Registration Area. Place your note on the bulletin board by the last name initial.

MEDICAL EMERGENCY. Please call the Hotel Operator if a medical emergency arises. The operator will then contact the proper authorities and help will be dispatched immediately.

LOCAL INFORMATION. The Minnesota Council on Family Relations will be staffing a local information table from Tuesday morning through Saturday noon. This will be located in the NCFR registration area.

TOURS. Gerald Hadd and Shirley Barber, Minnesota Council on Family Relations, have arranged for three optional tours, designed to acquaint Annual Meeting delegates with outstanding points of interest in the beautiful Twin Cities area. See the enclosed newsletter and registration form for complete information.

JOGGING TRAILS. Pick up maps for running trails at the Local Information Table. The mighty Mississippi is across the road from the Radisson Hotel, and jogging begins there!

THE LINKAGE BETWEEN THE FAMILY AND THE COMMUNITY: COPING WITH UNEMPLOYMENT
Sponsored by the Family Action Section

Workshop Leader: Matti Gershenfeld, Temple University

The focus of this workshop will be on the middle class unemployed. The major objective will be to teach the skills that are necessary for creating such workshops at the community level. The design for this workshop was created by a special grant from the Sun Company. The program proved so effective that four subsequent grants were given to continue this program in other regions of the Philadelphia area.

Participants will learn the design for each unit of the program. Units include: Feeling Alone and Abandoned; Myths and Stereotypes; Coping with Stress; Financial Information; Coping with the Family; Getting the Job — Playing it Smart.

The design involves having participants be active in their own lives, building support systems, developing skills in speaking and listening, developing skills in helping and being helped, and six kinds of problem solving.

There will also be hand-outs and materials available so that participants can develop reference materials.

This workshop is sponsored by the Family Action Section. The cost is $35. Pre-registration is desirable.

MAXIMIZING FAMILY ENERGY

The 1983 NCFR Annual Meeting officially opens on Wednesday evening, October 12, at 8:00 p.m. (See page 9.) For convenience in reading the program, pre-conference events are listed in the program on the days in which they take place.

Sunday, October 9 through Tuesday, October 11 THE FAMILY SYSTEMS-BEHAVIORAL MEDICINE WORKSHOP

The Family Systems-Behavioral Medicine Workshop, planned for October 9-11 as a pre-conference workshop, is designed to foster the important linkage and collaboration between family scientists and scientists in the health care professions. Nationally recognized scholars and committed individuals from medicine, psychology, sociology, family social science, nursing, and the biological sciences will convene at the Spring Hill Center (Minneapolis) to address critical issues related to theory, research and methodology, and intervention in the emerging field of family behavioral medicine. Representatives from national funding agencies and foundations interested in this new area of research and practice will be in attendance. Enrollment will be limited to 65 registrants. Registration costs are: Plan I: Registration fee ($40) plus meals and housing ($160) or Plan II: Registration fee ($40) plus meals ($100). Spring Hill Center was selected specifically because of its unique physical environment and amenities which enhance creative thought and effective dialogue. Spring Hill is 30 miles away from the NCFR main conference site (St. Paul Radisson), and transportation will not be provided between these locations. Workshop participants are expected to attend the total workshop to ensure continuity and the maximum exchange of information. Those interested may contact Joan M. Patterson, Co-chairperson, Family Stress and Coping Project, University of Minnesota, 275 McNeal Hall, St. Paul, MN 55108 (phone: 612-376-8135).

JOIN THE CLINICAL SOCIOLOGY ASSOCIATION

Established in 1978, the CLINICAL SOCIOLOGY ASSOCIATION is a growing international organization of sociologists and other social scientists interested in applying sociological knowledge. CSA members include a range of practitioners, evaluators, researchers and administrators from a variety of disciplines. Uniting this diversity of professional backgrounds and specialties are the organization's humanistic value orientation and its focus on intervention for positive social change.

We invite you to add your own particular skills and interests to our efforts to make social science knowledge a more directly relevant and practical tool for enhancing social relations at every level of interaction.

TEENAGE PARENTS...The topic of LOOKING FOR LOVE

ECC's award winning 1982 video documentary presents the responsibilities of parenthood faced by a growing number of adolescents. Looking for Love shows the changed lives of middle year teens who assume the parental role: their educational, social and financial adjustments.

"The only video tape I have seen that will appeal to adolescents... refreshing because it is genuine, believable."

Director of Adolescent Medicine, Department of Pediatrics

New Jersey Medical School, University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey.

"Parents and students should see this tape together. Parents will learn to talk to their children."

Gary Brown, High School Student

When the kids are home alone... here's how to keep them safe, self-sufficient, and feeling secure.

Because of economic necessity, there are now more than six million kids who must get a key instead of a kiss when they come home from school. This book, by two noted educators and counselors, takes "a comprehensive look that covers every imaginable aspect of the experience" (Publishers Weekly) including how to...

- teach your child to be careful, without being fearful
- cope with the special problems of children cared for by older siblings

- prepare your child for any emergency, including an easy-to-make "survival kit"
 - understand and handle unspoken fears
 - encourage "the good side"—self-sufficiency and independence
 - make an empty kitchen seem welcoming
- and much more—everything from breakfasts to boredom to the problems of too much television!
