NATIONAL COUNCIL ON FAMILY RELATIONS

1219 University Avenue S.E. • Minneapolis, Minnesota 55414

Area 612, 331-2774

PURPOSE OF THE NCFR

- The National Council on Family Relations was organized in 1938 as a way of uniting the many persons with an interest in the fields of family relations, family research, family life education, family counseling and family welfare. The Organization constantly re-evaluates the field. It is dedicated to renewal, experimentation, advanced thinking. The Organization stresses a perspective of sound, balanced family values. It constantly makes available significant new research and applied findings in marriage and the family.
- The NCFR conducts an annual highly authoritative, respected and popular national convention.
- The NCFR encourages lively local, state and regional councils, conferences and workshops.
- The NCFR is an influential member of the International Union of Family Organizations with headquarters in Paris and status in the United States.
- The NCFR helps support a Commission for the scientific study of families in the world as part of the program of the International Union of Family Organizations.
- The NCFR publishes an authoritative and distinguished quarterly,

JOURNAL OF MARRIAGE AND THE FAMILY. Articles, written by sociologists, social psychologists and other authorities in the varied disciplines associated with marriage and the family, deal with family theory and research, education, counseling, and family living.

- The NCFR publishes The Family Life Coordinator, an evolving journal which relates research to the concerns of educators, counselors, community workers and other practitioners.
- The NCFR with its international editor is sponsoring and making available in English the most outstanding articles from abroad associated with family life.
- The NCFR offers personal association with some of the most outstanding family specialists in North America in the fields of sociology, psychology, religion, medicine, counseling, education, anthropology, biology, home economics, and so on.
- The NCFR has taken special interest in standards and accreditation of teachers of marriage and family living in schools of the country, and is also concerned with curriculum development.
