Dear Friend:

You have been recommended for membership in the National Council on Family Relations. We believe that our professional fellowship will be of great value to you.

The National Council on Family Relations is the central clearing house for family-minded people; bringing together in one organization leaders in education, research, and professional service to marriage and family life.

Membership privileges include:

1. The quarterly journal, MARRIAGE AND FAMILY LIVING, with its original articles, national, state and local program reports, news notes and publication coverage. You are encouraged to send reports of your work for journal consideration.
2. Invitations to national conferences, eligibility for state and regional council affiliation and your name and interests kept on active file at national headquarters.
3. Clearing house services used by thousands of individuals and agencies across the country regarding: positions open, persons available, training opportunities and valid materials.

Our strength lies in the calibre and cooperation of thousands of professional persons like yourself working together in building a sound program for strengthening family life.

We look forward to receiving your membership card and check, and adding your name to the national roster.

Very sincerely yours,

Ernest W. Burgess
Ernest W. Burgess

P.S. The membership may be taken out by your agency in your name rather than by you personally if you prefer. See enclosed card. Send all communications to our new address 5757 South Drexel Avenue, Chicago 37, Illinois.
