OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
STATE OF OREGON

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the family is a basic and vital unit of our society and provides love, comfort, strength, counsel, friendship and guidance; and

WHEREAS, the family helps to prepare children to become productive, successful adults and to assume positions of leadership and to create their own families; and

WHEREAS, strong, healthy families are crucial for a thriving community and a prosperous society;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, John A. Kitzhaber, Governor of the great State of Oregon, hereby proclaim the week of November 14 through November 19, 1995 as in the State of Oregon, and encourage all citizens to recognize and celebrate the importance of the family.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I hereunto set my hand and cause the Great Seal of the State of Oregon to be affixed. Done at the Capitol in the City of Salem and the State of Oregon, on this day, April 27, 1995.

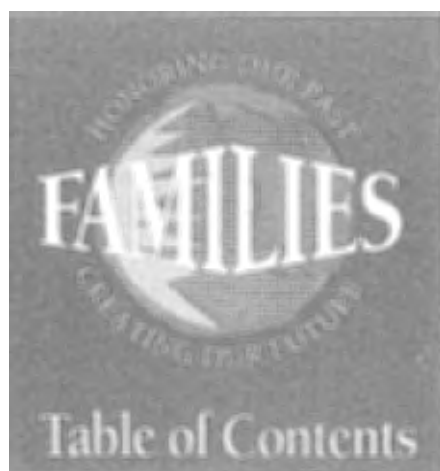

A handwritten signature of John A. Kitzhaber in dark ink, written over a horizontal line.

Portland - The City of Roses

The Local Arrangements committee of NCFR members from Oregon and Washington are preparing to showcase their city to conference attendees.

Portland is a cosmopolitan city with small-town charm set along a natural wonderland. Snow-capped mountains overlook the city with its quaint neighborhoods, bordered by the Columbia and Willamette Rivers. Thousands of acres of parks and rose gardens provide recreational opportunities.

Sites around the area include: Oregon History Center, Portland Art Museum, Portland Saturday Market, Water Town at Johns Landing, The Grotto, Mt. Hood, Maryhill Museum of Art, Crate's Point Living History Park, Metro Washington Park and Zoo, Pittock Mansion, Portland Center for the Performing Arts, World Forestry Center, Pioneer Courthouse Square (the center for outdoor cultural events). Shop at Meier & Frank, Nordstroms, Pioneer Place with more than 80 stores including Saks Fifth Avenue, The Galleria, Nike Town, and Lloyd Center. There is no sales tax in Oregon.

Ongoing Services

Hours are listed at the beginning of each day in the Conference Program Section.

Conference Registration

Pavilion Foyer (2nd Floor) Tue., Nov. 14;
Ballroom Foyer (Ballroom Level) Wed., Nov. 15 - Sat., Nov. 18. Please note changes in place of registration.

Begins Tuesday, Nov. 14, 7:00 am

Hospitality Room/ Local Information Headquarters

Parlor C (Ballroom Level). Sponsored by Northwest Council on Family Relations.

Co-chairs: Anna Rosenfeld, Tami Cheshire, Gretchen Zunkel

Meet people and look at brochures about the Portland area. Staff will help you with questions about: places to go for dinner, cultural events, sites, and tours available in the area. A list of emergency services is on file. Sign-up sheets are posted in the room for those who would like to go out for dinner with colleagues. The Local Arrangements Committee and Northwest Council are hosts.

Employment Matching Service

Senate and Executive Suites (3rd Floor). Begins at 12 noon on Tue., Nov. 15.

Co-chairs: Lorina Evans, Kathleen Greaves
Take advantage of this clearinghouse for those seeking jobs and for employers with job openings. Employers and candidates can use the service message center to set up interview appointments. Forms are available from the NCFR office or in the employment matching service room at the conference. Specify if you are looking for a job or are an employer who has a job opening. The service is free for those who are looking for jobs; $25 per job opening for employers listing jobs.

Press Representatives: Check in at the Conference Registration Desk in the Ballroom Foyer. Press credentials, press kits and other information may be picked up there. Staff will be available to answer questions and help locate speakers.

Audio and Video Tapes for Sale

Ballroom Foyer (near registration).
Northland Productions, Minneapolis, MN is providing this service. Both audio and video tapes will be available. High quality is guaranteed. Special Conference Prices: Audio Tapes - $8.50; Video Tapes - $35.

This section is designed to help attendees learn to maximize the conference experience.

How to Prepare Before You Leave Home

Review the Printed Program Carefully

Note all of the sessions you would like to attend. Highlight your "must sees."

Write out your schedule on a separate sheet of paper. Rank the presentations you want to attend, then those you are willing to forego. Try to schedule association business and committee meetings and receptions/parties. Be sure to include videos you want to preview and appointments you want to make. Write your final choices on your Personal Schedule Planner in the pull-out section of this Program.

Make Networking Plans

Ask your colleagues to introduce you to people you want to meet.

As you review the program, include in your hourly schedule your available meal times. Then call or write to people you would like to meet to make appointments before the conference.

Read some of their books and articles for ease in conversing with them.

Bring return address labels or print your name and address on a sheet of peel-off labels so that you can quickly attach them to sign-up lists and order cards.

Bring along business cards to hand to exhibitors, presenters, and new friends.

Pack copies of your resumes to hand out to colleagues and at the Employment Matching Service.

The NCFR Conference offers a limited number of volunteer positions to help in running the event. Contact the NCFR office by September 1 to obtain a form. Many student volunteers at NCFR conferences have become active members in our association after this experience. If you work for 8 hours, your conference registration fee will be refunded after the conference.

Miscellaneous notes

To prepare for emergencies, leave the name and telephone number of the hotel, your schedule, and NCFR's number with your family and colleagues.

As you pack your clothes, create the image you want to project at the conference. This is particularly important if you are using the job service. Include clothes for exercise, and all types of weather.

Allow space in your luggage to bring home copies of papers, books, and flyers.

Promote Yourself at the Employment Matching Service

For many universities and colleges, the job service is a major place for initial interviews. The NCFR Employment Service lists job openings and candidate files, and provides a space for preliminary interviews. You may also meet prospective employers in sessions in addition to the interview

Tips for Using the Employment Service

Follow the directions explicitly when preparing your materials.

Bring plenty of resumes and business cards with you. You may find out about openings in addition to the ones listed in the job service. Send your material before the conference so that you are listed in the alphabetic files. Inform colleagues you are looking for a job. They may give your name to employers.

Be assertive when you are at the conference.

Register at the employment service when it opens, and keep coming back, because frequently new jobs are listed. Leave messages on the board for those you wish to contact, and keep checking. If there is no response to your notes, try leaving room messages, or ask colleagues to help find them, but keep trying! More people are trying to find jobs than there are job openings!

Remember that you are making an impression at all conference events: sessions, receptions and parties. Network, dress, and conduct yourself appropriately. Send thank-you notes to all persons who gave you interviews.

Be An Active Participant in Conference Activities

Catch the Intellectual Highlights

◆ Attend all main sessions. These speakers are well-known in the family field.

◆ If you are attending with several colleagues, choose several presentations so that you can cover more topics, and share information and handouts later.

◆ Take notes during the sessions and purchase the audio and/or video tapes.

◆ Attend a variety of sessions: posters, papers, round tables. Each offers unique ways of learning and networking. Small informal sessions offer opportunities for interaction between presenters and the audience.

◆ Stay after sessions and introduce yourself to the speakers. However, be courteous of their time.

If sessions offer 3 or 4 papers, and only one is of interest to you, conference etiquette allows you to quietly enter or leave a session between papers. If several presentations conflict, leave a business card for the author to contact you or send a copy of the handout.

◆ During a session think about the kinds of questions you may want to ask the speaker during a question/answer period. Don't ask questions that give the impression you weren't listening. Keep questions brief. Don't seize the stage for yourself and refer to your own work.

Types of Conference Sessions

If you are registered and wearing a name badge, you are free to attend any sessions listed, with the exception of the receptions sponsored by colleges/universities. No advance reservations are required. During concurrent sessions, you choose which one to attend.

◆ Plenaries: General sessions attended by all registrants. Speakers focus in depth on the theme. No other sessions are scheduled during these sessions.

◆ Concurrent Section Sponsored Sessions: Each session has an overall theme. 3-4 papers are presented during the time period. Some include audience discussion. Symposia and Workshop sessions have a specific theme, and all papers are related to it. A moderator leads the discussion, and a discussant relates the papers to each other.

◆ Posters: Presentations summarized in graphic form. Posters are grouped by subject. Authors are present to discuss their work with you, and may have handouts for you to take home.

◆ Round Tables: Informal discussion sessions with 1 or more leaders doing a 10-15 minute overview of a specific topic. Round tables are limited to 10 participants per table, first-come first-served basis.

◆ Focus Groups: Special topic groups which meet for informal discussion of topics not central to existing Sections within NCFR.

Integrate With NCFR

◆ Membership in NCFR is a way to advance your career, and Sections are an excellent networking tool. Becoming active in NCFR Sections permits you to work with leaders in the field.

◆ Attend business and Section membership meetings. Your input is important and provides a way of becoming active in the organization.

◆ Volunteer to help with Conference functions and other programs and committees. NCFR depends on members for volunteer service in order to function effectively. You benefit by working side by side with key leaders.

Visit the Exhibits and Video Festival

Exhibits are an integral part of the NCFR conference. They provide one-stop shopping. Many publishers sell by mail, and this is your only chance to look at their materials before buying.

Check the Exhibits Directory carefully. There may be publishers, graduate schools, foundations, and government agencies which offer grants, computer software companies, and other companies offering services for academics.

Pick up brochures and catalogues as you go through the exhibits and study them while you are at the conference. Go back to the booth and try to order what you want while you are there. Some give conference discounts, or find out if they sell materials at reduced prices at the end of the conference.

Take Advantage of Networking Opportunities

◆ Attend the Newcomers Reception on Wednesday afternoon, November 15, 3:00 pm. Introduce yourself to other first-time attenders and meet the Board of Directors.

◆ Check name badges. They are often coded for students or first-time conference attendees. Suggest meeting for a snack or a meal. Arrange to meet at a central location such as registration so that it is easier to find each other.

◆ Be assertive. When you introduce yourself, have a brief 3-5 second explanation of the kind of work you do to help break the ice. Be a good listener!

◆ To find someone, leave messages in several places: the NCFR message board; the front desk at the hotel; or under a guest's door.

◆ Attend receptions and parties, especially those sponsored by college departments. It is easier to talk in the relaxed atmosphere of these functions.

◆ Use the central sitting areas with colleagues. This is a great place for people you know to introduce you to people they know.

◆ Exchange business cards when meeting new colleagues. Make notes on the back to remind yourself about significant information. Follow up with phone calls or notes after you return home.

◆ Share rooms. Staying with a group of people you know adds to the fun and lowers expenses. If you want to room with someone, but don't know who, take advantage of NCFR's matching service.

◆ Go out to a pay your own way dinner with others. Stop in the Hospitality Room (Parlor C) and sign up to go out with a group. Members of the Local Arrangements Committee and the Northwest Council on Family Relations will serve as your hosts.

Keep Physically Fit, Mentally Alert and Safe

◆ Make sure you get enough rest before going to the conference and once you are there. Fatigue is predictable due to a combination of late evenings, presentations, dinners, parties, early sessions, and meetings.

◆ Don't skip meals. Try to eat a balanced diet.

◆ Take work-out gear. The Hilton Hotel has indoor exercise equipment.

◆ Violence is present everywhere, and it is wise to take safety steps while at the conference. 1) Don't wear your name badge outside the conference facility - it is obvious that you are a visitor. 2) Stay in groups when walking outdoors. 3) Use only unmarked rental cars. 4) When you are in your room, keep the door locked and the deadbolt engaged at all times. 5) If someone comes to your door, use the peephole to see who it is. Call the front desk or security if the person says that he/she is on the hotel staff to see if this is correct, and the visit is authorized. 6) Be alert when riding an elevator by yourself. 7) Leave valuables in hotel safe deposit boxes.

Frequently check for messages at the Message Board. Call the Hotel front desk for phone calls. Adapted from Planning a Successful Conference, by Cynthia Winter (Sage Publications, 1994).

CITY OF PORTLAND

Proclamation

Whereas, strong families are the basic foundation of any society and are essential to the vitality and productivity of the city of Portland, Oregon; and

Whereas, the fabric of Portland is woven together from many diverse ethnic and cultural family threads, with each family's unique traditions and teachings blending together to guide the foundation upon which our community will continue to grow; and

Whereas, by honoring families, we are acknowledging the crucial role that they play in developing the character of our community; and

Whereas, the family is the central core from which we prepare our children to assume their positions of leadership and service that will take us into the 21st century; and

Whereas, the American family must cope with many challenges in contemporary society, including employment, child care, education, housing, health issues, child abuse, teen pregnancy, crime, poverty, and the effects of divorces and remarriages on family relationships; and

Whereas, the National Council on Family Relations has set aside November 14-19 to recognize and honor the vital role of families and it will continue to promote family education, advocate policy and legislation, and support community services that enhance family well-being;

Now, therefore, I, Vera Katz, Mayor of the City of Portland, Oregon, the "City of Roses", do hereby proclaim the week of November 14-19, 1995, to be in Portland, and recognize the commitment of the National Council on Family Relations to ensuring that the family flourishes in our society.

Levels of Family Involvement in Family Life Education

Wednesday, Nov. 15, 1995

8:00 am - 12:00 noon

Rose Ballroom

Sponsored by NCFR Education and Enrichment Section

Workshop Leader: William J. Doherty

Registration

Fee: $15 for NCFR members; $30 for non-members; $5 for students. Registration fee includes light continental breakfast. Register on the Conference Registration Form.

Participants will learn to utilize a model that differentiates between five levels of involvement in parent and family life education and use the skills needed for family life education or therapy. Educators and therapists will find this model to be a valuable tool for matching the right level of involvement to the needs and expectations of the individuals they serve.

IMFL, formerly Family Resources Database Acquired by NISC

National Information Services Corporation (NISC) is pleased to announce the acquisition of NCFR's Family Resources Data- base. NISC has renamed the database to Family Studies
Database and intends to expand both the scope and coverage of the database as well as increase the number of records added per year. NISC solicits suggestions for improvements to the file as they seek to enhance its usefulness and expand the areas of uniqueness. The file will be maintained online and soon debut on CD-ROM as a NISC DISC publication updated quarterly at an annual subscription rate of $595.00 USD. For further information or to place an order for the CD-ROM, please contact
Ms. Angela Myaris at Tel: (410)
243-0797, Fax: (410) 243-0982, or write to NISC, 3100 St. Paul Street, Baltimore, MD 21218
USA.

MUNCHAUSEN SYNDROME BY PROXY

Issues in Diagnosis and Treatment

Alex V. Levin and Mary S. Sheridan, Editors

Munchausen Syndrome by Proxy is one of the least recognized or understood forms of child abuse. The perpetrator is almost always the mother who creates the appearance of illness in her child through such means as falsification of medical records, covert administration of drugs or poisons, altering laboratory specimens, or by suffocating the child. Yet, she then gives the appearance of being a particularly caring, involved, and concerned parent by helping the medical team as much as possible, and sometimes even caring for other children in the hospital ward. The reasons behind this syndrome are manifold but little understood. With contributions from a multi-disciplinary array of experts, Munchausen Syndrome by Proxy examines the causes, manifestations, and consequences of this disturbing form of child abuse.

BEATING THE DEVIL OUT OF THEM

Corporal Punishment in American Families

Murray A. Straus

“As concern mounts over rising levels of violence in society, especially amongst the young, so do calls for more corporal punishment. But violence leads to violence and spanking and paddling are violence. If we want a non-violent society we have to root out the long tradition of physical punishment and learn to discipline children with our heads and hearts rather than with our hands and belts. Many of us have said it. Now, at last, Murray A. Straus proves it.”

WANTING ANOTHER CHILD

Coping With Secondary Infertility

Harriet F. Simons

“Harriet Simons has written a book of extraordinary importance. While the facts and feelings of infertility are now more readily acknowledged than they were only 20 years ago, secondary infertility continues to be under-recognized and under-appreciated. This book speaks to the millions of neglected sufferers of secondary infertility. In a clear and well-informed voice, she offers not only support and comfort but also coping strategies and survival techniques which will be immediately useful to patients and professionals alike. This book will soon join other classics in the infertility literature.”

CHILDREN OF INCARCERATED PARENTS

Katherine Gabel and Denise Johnson, M.D.

Children often react to the arrest and incarceration of a parent by demonstrating a consistent pattern of aggression, anxiety, hyperarousal states, depression, attention disorders, developmental regression and “survivor guilt.” Like children bereaved through violence, children of prisoners also experience a change in future orientation and are unsure of how to feel about their parent. This book discusses the optimum time to provide intervention following significant traumas and shows that direct preventative and early intervention services to children of offenders can help them cope and steer them away from a life in which crime plays a familiar role.

Viewing Social Crisis Through an Intergenerational Prism: A Model for Addressing Individual, Family and Community Problems

Co-sponsored by the Portland Urban League and NCFR

Workshop Leader: James Gambone,
Senior Partner and Executive Producer, Points of View, Inc.,
Orono, MN

Active participants from the Portland area representing five generational cohorts will work on a real-life open-ended scenario with Dr. Gambone on the problem of Youth Violence in the Neighborhood. All generations' perspectives must be heard and respected for any social problem to be solved. Dr. Gambone will work with the participants to improve intergenerational understanding and identify cooperative action steps. Everyone registered for the workshop will actively participate.

Fee: $35, NCFR members; $45, non-members. Includes Continental breakfast. Register on the Conference
Registration form.

Note: Several air flights leave Portland early Sunday afternoon. You can attend this workshop and still be home Sunday evening.

Honoring Our Past, Creating Our Future

"Revisions of popular, current texts and the publication of new titles exemplify Mayfield Publishing Company's continuing drive to solve teaching problems. Please come by our booth and see for yourself what's new and what we have planned for the future."

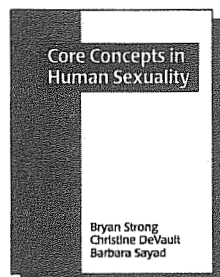

New Titles

Intimate Relationships, Marriages, and Families, Third Edition

F. Philip Rice

Intimate Relationships, Marriages, & Families, now available in more affordable paperback, is a comprehensive introduction to marriage and the family. Interdisciplinary and applied in approach, the text explores the complex and challenging nature of intimate relationships and encourages students to make their own informed personal choices.

1-55934-496-2/paperback /780 pages

Core Concepts in Human Sexuality

Bryan Strong, Christine DeVault, and Barbara Sayad

Core Concepts in Human Sexuality provides students with a research-based overview of the many biological, psychological, sociological, and historical dimensions of sexuality in a non-judgmental tone. The text helps students to make responsible decisions that promote healthy sexual behaviors and well-being.

1-55934-508-X/paperback /622 pages

The Process of Parenting, Fourth Edition

Jane B. Brooks

A thorough introduction to the process of parenting, the text describes parenting strategies for children from birth through adolescence. Like earlier editions, the fourth edition shows how parents and caregivers can translate their love and concern for children into effective parenting skills.

1-55934-536-5/paperback / 570 pages

Guiding Young Children, Second Edition

Eleanor Reynolds

Guiding Young Children is a sensitively written, child-centered introduction to guidance for teachers and caregivers in daycare and preschool settings. Students will also appreciate the real life examples, sample dialogs, case studies, and numerous photographs that vividly bring to life the daily interaction of children and teachers in the day-care setting.

WADSWORTH . . .

presents a family of choice in sociology

New this fall!

THE INDIVIDUAL, MARRIAGE, AND THE FAMILY, Ninth Edition by Lloyd Saxton

Long praised for its accessibility, objectivity, and focus on the individual within the contexts of marriage and family, Saxton's comprehensive bestseller presents today's students with the information they need to make decisions about dating, marriage, and family. Filled with practical examples illustrating the best of scholarly research, this timely Ninth Edition includes expanded treatment of love in relationships, cohabitation, the nature of attraction, the differences between male and female sexual strategies, stepfamilies, childcare, single-parent families and a range of other critical issues affecting students' lives.

(Format: 672 pp. Casebound. 7 3/8 x 9 1/4. ISBN: 0-534-21018-X.)

Also available...

MARRIAGES AND FAMILIES: Making Choices and Facing Change, Fifth Edition

by Mary Ann Lamanna and Agnes Riedmann

A long-standing bestseller that combines a decision-making perspective within a sociological framework to help students understand how their personal choices are influenced by broader social forces.

(Format: 709 pp. Casebound. 8 x 10.)

ISBN: 0-534-18739-0

CHANGING FAMILIES

by Judy Root Aulette

Exploring how social-structural forces impact family experiences and how families and individuals influence and cope with social structure, this text examines the interplay between family and society within a historical context and with a diverse view of the family unit.

(Format: 506 pp. Casebound. 7 3/8 x 9 1/4.)

ISBN: 0-534-21308-1.)

THE BLACK FAMILY: Essays and Studies, Fifth Edition edited by Robert Staples

Renowned for its readability, breadth of coverage, and scholarship, this collection of essays reflects vital issues and trends surrounding the Afro-American family. Newer articles in this edition explore such timely concerns as sexual harassment, family health, the AIDS epidemic, and interracial marriages.

(Format: 348 pp. Paperbound. 7 3/8 x 9 1/4.)

ISBN: 0-534-21762-1.)

Family Life Education Teacher's Kit 1994 Supplement

The original Family Life Education Teacher's Kit, published in 1993, consists of 66 lesson plans based upon the ten family life substance areas as criteria for the Certified Family Life Educator program. The popularity of the Teacher's Kit prompted the production of the 1994 Teacher's Kit Supplement. It consists of 30 additional lesson plans. There are three lesson plans in each on the ten substance areas.

- Families in Society
- Human Growth & Development
- Interpersonal Relationships
- Parent Education & Guidance
- Ethics
- Internal Dynamics of Families
- Human Sexuality
- Family Resource Management
- Family Law and Public Policy
- Family Life Education Methodology

The Supplement is meant to be added to the original Family Life Education Teacher's Kit and can also stand alone. The lesson plans in both kits are geared toward high school, undergraduate, and graduate level audiences as well as adult education and/or extension classes. The Kit and the Supplement provide family life educators with tested, ready-to-use lesson plans. Includes overhead masters and handouts. Original Kit 392 pages and Supplement 248 pages.

1994 Teacher's Kit Supplement prices:

CFLE/NCFR member -- $21.95 plus $3.00 shipping & handling*

Non-member -- $24.95 plus $3.00 shipping & handling*

Original Family Life Education Teacher's Kit prices:

National Council on Family Relations

The National Council on Family Relations (NCFR) is a member-funded, non-profit, non-partisan organization for professionals in the family field.

NCFR Mission Statement:

The National Council on Family Relations provides a forum for family researchers, educators, and practitioners to share in the development and dissemination of knowledge about families and family relationships, establishes professional standards, and works to promote family well-being.

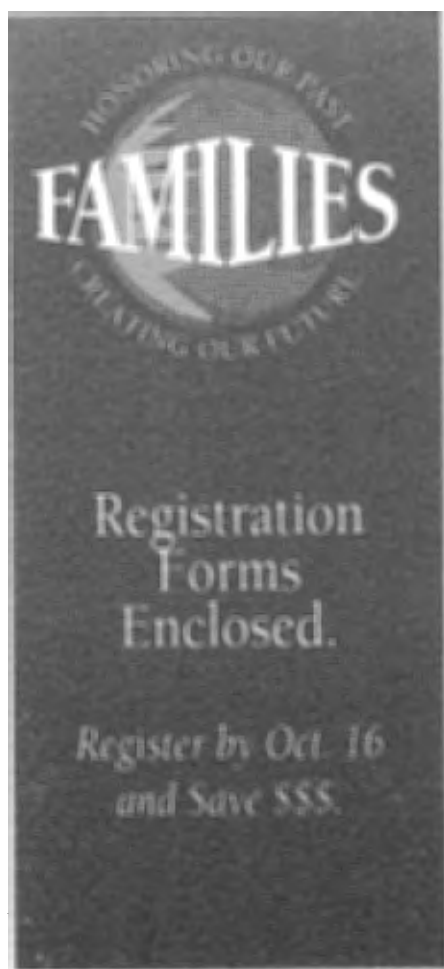

Founded in 1938, NCFR has a membership of 3,900 professionals throughout the world. It publishes two premier journals, Journal of Marriage and the Family and Family Relations.

The Annual Conference implements NCFR's mission by promoting cutting edge research, policy agendas, and networking opportunities for multidisciplinary professionals who deliver services to families. Approximately 1,200 professionals and graduate students attend the conference.

Objectives of the NCFR Annual Conference:

- To provide a means for professionals to disseminate cutting edge research and policy information in the diverse fields of the family (i.e. therapy, law, medicine, psychology, sociology, social work, education, etc.).
- To enable attendees the opportunity to network with leading professionals in the family field.

- To share stimulating presentations by plenary speakers and hold Sectional meetings, in varied formats to provide professional development research opportunities.
- To offer attendees continuing education credits.
- To present the latest audio-visual materials in the family field in exhibits and film screenings throughout the conference.
- To give members of the National Council on Family Relations an opportunity to learn more about the governance of the organization and provide opportunities for involvement in various conference activities.
- To provide a forum for public policy discussion.
