Enjoy the NCFR Conference in Sunny California

The Hyatt Regency Irvine is located in a beautiful setting of business and resort facilities overlooking the community of Newport Beach and the Saddleback Mountains, between Los Angeles and San Diego. Two shopping centers are a five-minute walk from the Hotel. There are lots of walking and biking trails, plenty of networking nooks and crannies inside and outside the hotel, and the Hyatt offers guaranteed Tee Times to NCFR attendees through two nearby golf courses.

Nearby Sites:

◀ Disneyland ▶ Knott's Berry Farm ▶ Irvine Spectrum Entertainment Center ▶ Orange County Performing Arts Center and South Coast Repertory Theater ▶ Laguna and Newport Beaches ▶ South Coast Plaza and Fashion Island shopping malls

Look on pages 4, 5, 50, 77, and 80 for more information about the hotel, discounted airfares, ground transportation, and directions for driving to Irvine. You may learn more about the area by contacting the Anaheim/Orange County website at: www.anaheimoc.org

Go to Disneyland at a Discount

Great news! Disneyland is offering NCFR Conference attendees discounted fees of $30 per day! (The regular admission price is $39.) Take advantage of this opportunity to see the new and improved Disneyland which has undergone massive upgrading and renovation. Attendees can pick up the Orange County Connection near the hotel for a short 20-minute ride to Disneyland's entrance. Order your tickets on the Conference registration form on page 81, and pick them up when you register at the Conference. The NCFR discount is valid November 12-15.

Family Ministry Consultation Workshop

Sponsored by the Religion and Family Life Section

Thursday, November 11, 9:00 am - 5:00 pm

Royal Room

Registration fee: NCFR Member - $40;

Non-member - $45; Student - $35. Fee includes lunch and refreshment break. Register on the Conference registration form on page 81.

Workshop Leader: Diana R. Garland, CFLE

This workshop focuses on understanding the need to implement community resources to support the family. While one of the prime resources is the local congregation, few of its members have had any formal training in family issues. The workshop leader brings her extensive background in congregational research to further equip those who would like family ministry consultation training.

Extension Family Life Workshop

Thursday, November 11, 8:30 am - 2:30 pm

Head Start 2010: Fulfilling the Promise

Sponsored by the National Head Start Association
(NHSA)

Thursday, November 11, 4:00 - 6:00 pm
Conference Theater

The NCFR Conference is privileged to be one of five sites selected by the Head Start Association for hearings to fulfill Head Start's promise to help low-income children enter public schools ready to learn in the 21st century.

Goals:

- ◀ Document the challenges facing low-income children and families in the U.S. at the turn of the century
- ◀ Recommend the best ways that Head Start and other early childhood organizations can address these issues.

A National Advisory Panel will convene the hearing. NCFR Conference attendees interested in the future of low-income children and families in the next ten years are encouraged to submit written testimony to the National Advisory Panel. Participants may request an opportunity to make an oral presentation at Irvine, by submitting written testimonials by October 6, 1999 to the Head Start Association.

If you wish to present testimony, fill out an application form to Head Start. Complete instructions for submitting testimony are available by going to the NCFR website: www.ncfr.org. Click on the Annual Conference Section, then click on the left sidebar "Conference Highlights."

Sponsored by NCFR, the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration, Center for Substance Abuse Prevention (CSAP); Parenting IS Prevention Project (PIPP); and the White House Office of National Drug Control Policy (ONDCP)

Monday, November 15, 1999, 1:00 - 8:00 pm

Empire A/B/C

Fees: NCFR Member - $40; Non-member - $45; Student - $35. Fee includes lunch, dinner, and refreshment break. Register on the Conference registration form on page 81.

Note: We need a minimum of 30 people in order to hold this Institute. If you are interested in attending, e-mail Cindy Winter, NCFR Conference Coordinator at wintersc@ncfr.org.

Workshop goals:

- ◀ Build collaboration between researchers, community groups, NCFR, and national groups to increase visibility of parenting substance abuse prevention programs to reach the public
- ◀ Discover grant opportunities for research
- ◀ Begin a dialogue between researchers and community groups on how to develop research and overcome barriers so that research can proceed to community awareness
- ◀ Determine how to get research outcomes disseminated to the public in useable form
- ◀ Develop an action plan to build partnerships in addressing family-related concerns.

Session #213 Ballroom A/B/C

PLENARY SESSION

The Necessity of Black Theater in a Healthy Artistic and Social Environment, Professor Lou Bellamy

Sponsored by the Univ. of Minnesota, Dept. of Family Social Science; and Syracuse Univ., Dept. of Family and Consumer Sciences

Introduction of Speaker: Norma J. Burgess
 Presider: Katherine R. Allen, CFLE

As we assimilate diverse families into society, it is important to take a look at all elements of their culture and heritage -- that these not be lost in the process of integration. Dr. Bellamy takes a unique look at the use of Black Theater as a forum for hearing, expressing, and maintaining the culture, needs, and voices of all people.

Lou Bellamy, Founder and Artistic Director of the renowned Penumbra Theatre, St. Paul, MN; Associate Professor, Theater and Dance Dept., Univ. of Minnesota; and professional actor. He holds degrees from Mankato State Univ. and Hamline Univ. in Minnesota. Appointed a McKnight Fellow to the Salzburg Seminar in Theater; Exec. Board member, African Grove Inst. for the Arts; and recipient of numerous awards including the Minnesota Martin Luther King, Jr. Humanitarian Award, and the Natl. Assn. of Negro Musicians, Inc. Distinguished Contribution Award.

AWARDS PRESENTATION AND PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS

Families, Professionals, and Communities: A Partnership Model,
William J. Doherty, Ph.D., 1998/99 NCFR President

Presider: Stephen Jorgensen, 1998/99 NCFR President-elect

Family well-being and the revival of public democracy require a different model of professional/family/community relations. We must move beyond the "trickle down" model in which knowledge is seen as flowing from academics to practitioners to families, to a partnership model in which families in community are seen as active co-producers of knowledge and expertise.

William J. Doherty is Professor, Family Social Dept., Univ. of Minnesota; noted therapist and speaker; author of The Intentional Family. He has actively served NCFR as a Section Chair, Program Vice-president, and as an officer and board member in the American Assn. for Marriage and Family Therapy.

NCFR honors recipients of the following awards: Distinguished Service to Families; Osborne Teaching; Reuben Hill; and Jessie Bernard. See page 12 for a description of the awards.

PLENARY SESSION

Contemporary Immigration Issues Affecting Hispanic Families,
Marta Sotomayor, Ph.D.

Sponsored by the Michigan State University, Department of Family and Child Ecology

Introduction of Speaker: Francisco A. Villarruel

Presider: Katherine R. Allen, CFLE

Nearly everyone sees immigration as a major issue of the present and next century. Migration is recognized and acknowledged as a natural component of the development of free societies and market economies. Immigration in the U.S. has emerged as a central issue as seen in the passage of H.R. 2202 which aims to increase patrols and barriers along the U.S.-Mexico border; improve methods to detect illegal entries; speed up deportation procedures; and restrict access to federal benefit programs for both legal and illegal immigrants. Dr. Sotomayor will explore the impact of mass migration from Latin America, and the impact of U.S. immigration laws on families and communities.

Marta Sotomayor, President and CEO, Natl. Hispanic Council on Aging; former member, U.S. Official Delegation to HABITAT II, UN Conference on Human Settlements, Istanbul, Turkey; former Senior Policy Advisor, The Secretary's Task Force on Minority Health, U.S. Public Health/Dept. of HHS. Board member of many civic organizations, including Natl. Seniors Health Cooperative; Int. Ctr. for Research and Training for Programs in Aging; Natl. Catholic Sch. of Social Service, Catholic Univ. of America. Author and editor of numerous books and articles including, Empowering Hispanic Families, and Hispanic Elderly: A Cultural Signature. Consultant to a variety of national and international agencies including the Pan American Health Organization.

Marie Peters Award Address

Shifting Paradigms in the Study of Contemporary American Families: Issues of Race, Culture, and Ethnicity, Peggy Dilworth-Anderson, Ph.D., Univ. of North Carolina-Greensboro, winner of the 1998 NCFR Marie Peters Award for outstanding research on ethnic minority families.

President: Edith A. Lewis, Marie Peters Award Selection Committee

This address will be based on Dr. Dilworth-Anderson's broad research and writings on intergenerational relations in African American families. Her studies have included the care of the elderly and chronically ill children in African American families; theoretical and conceptual issues on the study of culturally diverse families, and empirical research on family caregiving and support; intergenerational research including the elderly helping address the needs of at-risk Black children; and issues families face when giving care to older relatives and the effects of caregiving on family members.

Peggy Dilworth-Anderson is Professor, Dept. of Human Dev. and Family Stud., Univ. of North Carolina-Greensboro; family therapist, primarily serving minority, poor, and multigenerational families. She has served in many capacities and has been elected a Fellow in NCFR, the Gerontological Soc. of America, and the Inst. on Aging at UNC Chapel Hill; is a former member, Natl. Inst. on Aging study section on human development and aging (HUD-2); and serves on social science panels for the National Science Foundation. Graduate Fellowship Program.

RESEARCH UPDATE FOR PRACTITIONERS*

Intergenerational Relationships in Southeast Asian Refugee Families,
Daniel F. Detzner; Ph.D.; Blong Xiong, M.A.

Sponsored by the Ethnic Minorities Section and the Association of Councils

Introduction of Speaker: Masako Ishii-Kuntz

President: James J. Ponzetti, Jr., CFLE

Recorder: Dan M. Sandifer-Stech, CFLE

Refugees face years of adaptation in a new environment that is not always hospitable, and are often traumatized by multiple losses, family separation, and years of uncertainty. Southeast Asians who came to the U.S. after 1975 continue to struggle with the intergenerational dynamics of family adjustment. Elders, the middle generation, and youth all experience forced relocation in dramatically different ways, and the tensions between generations within families are often hidden from the view of outsiders. Issues of language use, culture, gender role, and filial piety are frequently at the center of southeast Asian intergenerational family dynamics; however, family rules about privacy make it difficult for practitioners to assist with the adjustment process. The presenters will examine the differential experiences of each generation; illustrate multigenerational dynamics within families, and demonstrate a model to empower families to devise their own solutions for typical problems of everyday life. Examples from their recently published parent educational curriculum will be used. Blong Xiong brings his doctoral studies and his unique personal experience as a Hmong refugee to his analysis of family dynamics.

Daniel Detzner, professor, Family Social Science Dept., Assoc. Dean, Academic Affairs, Col. of Human Ecology; and former Dir., Refugee Studies Ctr., Univ. of Minnesota. He has worked for more than 10 years on intergenerational issues in Southeast Asian families. Blong Xiong, doctoral student, Family Social Science Dept., Univ. of Minnesota; grants reviewer, Dept. of Children, Families, and Learning; advisory member of Children, Youth, and Families Consortium, Univ. of Minnesota; and member, NCFR personnel committee.

*Research Update for Practitioners summarizes the latest research and provides a practical knowledge base for practitioners and educators.

RESEARCH UPDATE FOR PRACTITIONERS*

Boundary Ambiguity in Families: Living With Unresolved Loss, Pauline G. Boss, Ph.D.

Sponsored by the Association of Councils

Introduction of Speaker: Harriette P. McAdoo

Presider: Lane H. Powell, CFLE

Recorder: Miriam H. Mulsow

This session will focus on both the research and clinical experience of coping with unresolved losses that Dr. Boss used in writing her new book, Boundary Ambiguity in Families: Living With Unresolved Loss as a basis for the presentation. Some of the unresolved losses may include: Immigrants resettling in new countries, but forever homesick, or having a loved one physically present, but psychologically beyond our reach. Dr. Boss will suggest strategies that can cushion the pain of tumultuous emotions stirred up by such losses. She will show the strength required to yield to the unanswered questions of living with ambiguous loss. This session is for educators, practitioners, and researchers. This is an example of application developed from research.

Pauline Boss is family social science professor, Univ. of Minnesota; a former NCFR President; family therapist; Fellow, Div. 43, American Psychological Assn.; research chair, American Family Therapy Academy; and former visiting professor of psychology, Harvard Univ. Medical Sch. Author of Family Stress Management, currently in revision.

*Research Update for Practitioners summarizes the latest research, and provides a practical knowledge base for practitioners and educators.

Learn About Families in the Next Millenium - Come to the 2000 NCFR Annual Conference!

Visions for Families: Continuity and Change Across Cohorts and Generations

November 8-14, 2000 ♦ Minneapolis Hilton and Towers, Minneapolis, MN

Program Chair: Elaine A. Anderson, University of Maryland

As the title of the movie, Back to the Future implies, we must include our history and extant knowledge into our future actions for families in the next millennium. Entering a new century prompts us to review what we know about families and their needs, while projecting ahead to explore and discover the possibilities to come.

Questions to consider include: ♦ How have families changed and maintained over the years? ♦ What struggles are present and persist between the generations? ♦ What lessons can be brought to the future development and sustainment of family relationships? ♦ How does being a member of a cohort and generation effect one's life? ♦ How will technology present future challenges for families? ♦ How can we best educate our society to meet the needs of families? ♦ What are the major health challenges we face for our aging and increasingly diverse population? ♦ What responses are the faith communities making to cohorts and generations? ♦ What must government do to provide support for and address the needs of families? ♦ Will we continue to become a global village and how will families respond? ♦ Why should cohorts and generations be of interest to family professionals? ♦ Whose job is it to go back to the future?

As we enter the 21st century, we must review and learn from our past, identify our strengths and the challenges remaining, and project to the future our involvement in understanding, working with and helping individuals, families, and communities. We welcome stimulating and challenging proposals that will allow us to assess where we have come from, where we are, or where we might go.

Program Highlights

- ♦ Involve yourself and our youth in the advocacy for a civil society.
- ♦ Reflect on family diversity - visit the past, present, and future.
- ♦ Discuss the hot topics of the new Millennium in a forum.
- ♦ Meet the revolutionaries of the 60's - Counsel of Sages.
- ♦ Hear four cohorts of policy wonks weave the history of family policy.
- ♦ Share in the stories of families across generations.
- ♦ Learn how you can leave a legacy for future family scholars.
- ♦ Prepare to respond to the caretaking needs of your family across the generations.

Family Studies Database (FSD) is the premier electronic finding aid and index to family research, policy and practical literature. Annual subscriptions are available via the Internet (WWW) and CD-ROM.

More than 240,000 abstracts and citations!

The Family Studies Database is the most comprehensive index to family-related literature available, featuring the Inventory of Marriage & Family Literature (formerly published in print), Family Resources (formerly available online) and the well-respected Australian Family & Society Abstracts.

The Family Studies Database can help you find and review relevant family-based literature on a given topic; stay current with the literature published in your profession; and identify other practitioners or researchers working in your field, or in another field that interests you.

The Family Studies Database indexes and abstracts from a core group of more than 1,100 important journals and other sources.

Coverage includes: trends in marriage & family, family violence, family law & related issues, family therapy, minority groups, organizations & services, work & gender roles, marriage & divorce, parenting, adolescents, family counseling & education, intermarriage, blended families, reproduction issues, family relationships & dynamics, sexual attitudes & behavior, families at risk, families with special problems, mate selection, aids for theory & research.

International in scope, the publications indexed in FSD come from a broad array of social science disciplines including: family science, social work, psychology, health sciences, demography, human ecology, economics, sociology, law, education, and economics. Articles are selected and abstracted based on their relevance and usefulness to family studies specialists, practitioners, researchers, and policymakers. Articles are described using the vocabulary and terminology familiar to family studies professionals, which means better record retrieval for you.

33 ACADEMIC PROGRAMS SUBMITTED TO NCFR COMMITTEE FOR APPROVAL!

33 undergraduate and graduate programs have now been submitted to the NCFR Academic Program Review Committee for review. Twenty-eight programs have been approved and five are currently under review or working to modify their curriculum to meet program requirements. The Committee reviews the course offerings and determines if they cover the content needed for the Provisional Certified Family Life Educator (CFLE) designation. Graduates of these approved programs qualify to complete an abbreviated application process for Provisional certification and pay a reduced application fee. Congratulations to these schools!

Make the Most of Your Conference Experience

How to Prepare Before You Leave Home

Review the Printed Program Carefully

- ◀ Note all of the sessions you would like to attend. Highlight your "must sees." Be sure to bring your Printed Program with you to the Conference; additional copies cost $3.50.
- ◀ Rank the presentations you want to attend. Try to schedule Section membership and committee meetings as well as receptions/parties. Be sure to include appointments you want to make. Write your final choices on your Personal Schedule Planner in the pull-out section of this Program.

Make Networking Plans

- ◀ Ask your colleagues to introduce you to people you would like to meet.
- ◀ Prior to the Conference, schedule appointments with those people you would like to meet at the Conference. Read their books and articles for ease in conversing with them.
- ◀ Bring return address labels or print your name and address on a sheet of peel-off labels so that you can quickly attach them to sign-up lists and order cards.
- ◀ Bring along business cards to hand to exhibitors, presenters, and new friends.
- ◀ Pack copies of your resume for colleagues and the Employment Matching Service.
- ◀ The NCFR Conference offers a limited number of volunteer positions. Many student aides at NCFR Conferences have become committee members after this experience. If you work 8 hours, your Conference registration fee will be refunded after the Conference. Contact the NCFR office by September 1 to obtain a form, or print one from NCFR's Website at: www.ncfr.org.

- ◀ Register before the Conference so that you can review Program materials ahead of time.
- ◀ Remember - you must be registered and wear your name badge at all times to attend any sessions, including receptions and Section member meetings.

Miscellaneous Notes

- ◀ For emergencies, leave the telephone number of the hotel, your schedule, and NCFR's number with your family and colleagues.
- ◀ Select clothes that create the image you want to project at the Conference. This is particularly important if you are using the Employment Matching Service. Also include clothes for exercise and all types of weather.
- ◀ Allow space in your luggage to bring home copies of papers, books, and flyers.

Promote Yourself: Use the Employment Matching Service

- ◀ The NCFR Employment Service lists job openings, candidate files, and provides space for interviews. Many universities and colleges use the Service area for initial interviews.

Tips for Using the Employment Matching Service

- ◀ Follow directions explicitly when preparing your materials.
- ◀ Bring a supply of resumes and business cards with you. You may find new openings in addition to those listed through the Employment Matching Service.
- ◀ Send your Employment Matching Service materials to NCFR before the Conference so that you are listed in the alphabetic files. Inform colleagues you are looking for a job; they may give your name to employers.

Be Assertive at the Conference

- ◀ Register at the Employment Matching Service on opening day and leave your hotel room number so you can be contacted if there is a message left for you. Keep returning — new jobs are posted daily. Leave messages on the board for those you wish to contact, and keep checking. If there is no response to your notes, leave a room message or ask colleagues to help you find them, but keep trying!
- ◀ Remember that you are making an impression at all Conference events, sessions, receptions, and parties. Network, dress, and conduct yourself accordingly. Send thank you notes to all appropriate people.

Actively Participate in Conference Activities

- ◀ Attend all main sessions. The speakers are leaders in the family field.
- ◀ If you are attending with several colleagues, choose a variety of presentations so that you can cover more topics, and share information and handouts later.
- ◀ Take notes during the sessions and purchase the audio and/or video tapes. Tapes are an inexpensive way to review what you learned at the session and share with colleagues.
- ◀ Attend a variety of sessions: posters, papers, round tables. Each offers unique learning and networking experiences. Small informal sessions offer opportunities for interaction between presenters and the audience.
- ◀ Stay after sessions and introduce yourself to the speaker(s) — but be courteous of the speaker(s)' time.
- ◀ If sessions offer 3 or 4 papers, and only one is of interest to you, Conference etiquette allows you to quietly enter or leave a session between papers. If several presentations conflict, leave a business card for the author to contact you or to send a copy of the handout.
- ◀ Throughout a session, think of questions you may want to ask the speaker during the question/answer period. Don't ask questions that give the impression you weren't listening. Keep questions brief. Don't seize the stage for yourself and your own work.

- ◀ Watch the award-winning videos from the NCFR Media Awards. You can watch them in the Hospitality Cafe. Check out the videos at the NCFR Exhibit Booth.

Types of Conference Sessions

- ◀ If you are registered and wearing a name badge, you are free to attend any session listed, with the exception of the NCFR Board and Committee meetings, Legacy Circle, and the CFLE reception. No advance reservations are required for sessions. During concurrent sessions, you choose which one to attend.
- ◀ Plenaries: General sessions attended by all registrants. Speakers focus in depth on a theme. No other sessions are scheduled during these sessions.
- ◀ Concurrent Section Sponsored Sessions: Each session has an overall theme. Three to four papers are presented during the time period. Some include audience discussion. Symposia/Workshop sessions have specific themes. A moderator leads the discussion, and a discussant relates the papers to each other.
- ◀ Posters: Presentations summarized in graphic form. Posters are grouped by subject. Authors are present to discuss their work, and may have handouts for you to take home.
- ◀ Round Tables: Informal discussion sessions with 1 or more leaders presenting a 10-15 minute overview of a specific topic. Round tables are limited to 10 participants per table on a first-come, first-serve basis.
- ◀ Focus Groups: Special topic groups that meet for an informal discussion of topics not central to existing Sections within NCFR. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Integrate With NCFR

- ◀ Attend the Orientation session for those who want to become involved in NCFR, Friday, Nov. 12, 9:15 am. NCFR membership and NCFR Sections are excellent means of advancing your career, and establishing professional networks.
- ◀ Attend business and Section membership meetings. Your input is important and provides a way of becoming active in NCFR.
- ◀ Volunteer to help with Conference functions and other programs and committees. You benefit by working with key leaders.

Visit the Exhibits

- ◀ Exhibits, an integral part of the NCFR Conference, provide one-stop shopping. Many publishers sell by mail and this may be your only chance to review their materials before buying.
- ◀ Check the Exhibits Directory carefully. Exhibitors include publishers, graduate schools, foundations, government agencies, and other companies providing services for academics and practitioners.
- ◀ Pick up Exhibit brochures and catalogues during the Conference, for ordering purposes. Exhibitors often offer Conference discounts, or sell their materials at reduced prices at the end of the Conference.

Take Advantage of Networking Opportunities

- ◀ Attend the Newcomers Reception on Friday, Nov. 12, 8:00 am. Introduce yourself to other first-time attendees and meet the NCFR Board of Directors. Come to the President's Welcoming Reception on Friday, Nov. 12, 9:00 pm. Meet President William J. Doherty and his wife, Leah. Take time to meet Michael L. Benjamin, NCFR's new Executive Director, and his wife, Marva; NCFR Board members; and other NCFR members.

- ◀ Check name badges. They are coded for students or first-time Conference attendees. Suggest meeting other attendees for a snack or a meal.
- ◀ Be assertive. When you introduce yourself, have a brief 3-5 second explanation of the kind of work you do to help break the ice. Be a good listener!
- ◀ To find someone, leave messages in several places: the NCFR message board, the hotel front desk, or under a guest's door.
- ◀ Attend receptions and parties, especially those sponsored by college departments.
- ◀ Use the central sitting areas. These are great places for people you know to introduce you to people they know.
- ◀ Exchange business cards when meeting new colleagues. Make notes on the back to remind yourself about significant information. Follow up with phone calls or notes after you return home.
- ◀ Share rooms. Staying with a group of people you know adds to the fun and lowers expenses. If you want to room with someone, but don't have a roommate, call the NCFR office.
- ◀ Stop in the Hospitality Cafe (Embassy Room) and meet new people. Sign up to go out for a "each person pay your own way" dine-arounds with leaders in the family field.

Keep Physically Fit, Mentally Alert, and Safe

- ◀ Make sure you get enough rest during the Conference. Fatigue is predictable due to a combination of late evenings, presentations, dinners, parties, early sessions, and meetings.
- ◀ Don't skip meals. Try to eat a balanced diet. Take work-out gear. The hotel has indoor exercise equipment.
- ◀ Be safety-smart while at the Conference. 1) Don't wear your name badge outside the Conference facility. 2) Stay in groups when walking outdoors. 3) When you are in your room, keep the door locked and the deadbolt engaged at all times. If someone comes to your door, use the peephole to see who it is and call the front desk or security if the person says that he/she is on the hotel staff to see if the visit is authorized. 4) Be alert when riding an elevator by yourself. 5) Leave valuables in hotel safe deposit boxes.
- ◀ Frequently check for messages at the Message Board. Call the hotel front desk for phone calls.
