Rochester, NY Information

Historic Western New York and the Local Arrangements Committee Welcome You to the 2001 Annual Conference

Facts About the Rochester Area

Rochester is the 3rd largest city in New York and the 79th largest city in the U.S. The Partners for Livable Communities rated Rochester as one of the top 4 Most Livable Cities in America this decade! It is located within a 400-mile radius of 14 northeastern states, two Canadian provinces, and Washington, D.C. It is also the western gateway to the fabulous Finger Lakes Region and a day's drive from New York City.

Historic African-American Connections

Visitors will find a range of sites, exhibits, and informational sources available. Places associated with the famous orator and abolitionist Frederick Douglass are numerous. A nearby marker indicates the location of his family home (now gone), where John Brown, another famous historic figure, often visited. Downtown Rochester's Main Street yields information about the Underground Railroad; "The North Star" newspaper; and Austin Steward, a runaway slave who became one of the community's first black businessmen and property owners. Tour the Memorial African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church in the Corn Hill Neighborhood, founded in 1827 and the oldest black church in Rochester. Monroe Community Hospital features an ornate facade designed in the early 1930s by Thomas Boyde--the first African-American architect to work in the area. See Maplewood Park, where slaves boarded boats headed across Lake Ontario to Canada and freedom.

Birthplace of the Women's Rights Movement

This movement was born in 1848 when Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Jane Hunt, Mary Ann M'Clintock, Lucretia Mott, and Martha Wright organized the First Women's Rights Convention in Seneca Falls and presented a Declaration of Sentiments (including...that all men and women are created equal.) to an audience of 300 people. Twelve days later a second convention advocating women's rights was held in Rochester, and this social revolution gained a critically important "general." The woman who became the movement's voice, campaigned for women's rights, and was arrested for the "crime" of voting became one of Rochester's most famous residents--Susan B. Anthony. Visit her home and see first-hand the working areas where the women worked as they sought to obtain women's right to vote.

Don't Miss Experiencing These Unique-to Rochester Destinations

♦ Explore the past, present, and future of photography or take a one-hour guided tour of the George Eastman House and International Museum of Photography and Film which features changing photography exhibits.

- ♦ Take a self-guided walking tour through an historic residential neighborhood such as Corn Hill, Park Avenue, or East Avenue and look for artistic benches and other works of art in the Grove Place neighborhood near the Eastman Theatre.
- ♦ Visit Frontier's Mini-Museum of Telephone History with its antique telephones, equipment, and historic photos. ♦ Experience Sesame Street and other family-fun exhibits at Kids-to-Kids, or browse through the largest collection of unique dolls, toys, and miniatures in the world, both at the Strong Museum.
- ♦ Visit the historic Memorial Art Gallery. ♦ Trips to the stars in the Strassenburgh Planetarium are another popular pastime.
- ♦ The Rochester Museum & Science Center has Seneca exhibits and artifacts that date from around 1550 to 1820. Historic displays, audio-visual presentations, and hands-on activities illustrate Seneca Iroquois traditions and concerns from saving their land to retaining their language and culture to making a living in today's modern world.

Other Nearby Sites:

- ♦ The beautiful Niagara Falls ♦ A memorial and the gravesite of Harriet Tubman in Auburn ♦ The Peter Whitmer Farm where the Latter Day Saints Church was officially chartered located near Seneca Falls ♦ Corning Glass Company ♦ The Baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, approximately 2-1/2 hours from Rochester ♦ Cornell University, a 90-mile drive from Rochester

Come join your Upstate New York colleagues for an outstanding NCFR Conference.

Share With Others and Purchase a Gift at the Hospitality Center

The Hospitality Center (Galleria Lobby of the Rochester Riverside Convention Center) will be lively during the Conference. In addition to picking up brochures, and meeting new friends, you can shop for family and friends at the Silent Auction. Members and businesses are donating items to be sold at the Auction. Proceeds from the Silent Auction will be given to two different service organizations - a food shelf in the Syracuse area, and The Family Resource Centers in Rochester.

Check the NCFR website this summer for more complete information: http://www.ncfr.org/conference_info/index.asp.

General Information

Welcome to the 63rd NCFR Annual Conference!

We cordially invite you to attend the 2001 Conference! An outstanding program is planned around the theme, Families, Stress, and Coping: Bridging Theory and Practice.

The NCFR Conference is a great experience for strengthening your professional career. In addition to dynamic Plenary sessions and Research Updates for Practitioners, most Sections have invited experts to address special issues. Come early and take advantage of the dynamic, interactive pre-conference workshops. NCFR consistently provides top research to give validity to ideas to help families.

In addition to more than 450 presentations, you can network with leaders in the family field and meet NCFR President Stephen R. Jorgensen, other Board members, Section Chairs, Journal Editors, and Executive Director, Michael L. Benjamin. They are anxious to talk to as many of you as possible and hear about your hopes and dreams for NCFR.

Plan now to come and meet your colleagues in Rochester, NY.

Conference Registration

Everyone who attends the Conference must be registered, and must stop at the Conference Registration Desk to pick up packets, name badges, and tickets for special events. NAME BADGES MUST BE WORN AT ALL TIMES DURING THE CONFERENCE. ATTENDEES WILL BE CHECKED AT THE DOOR BEFORE THEY CAN ENTER SESSIONS. When you wear your name badge at the hotel, NCFR staff can easily track any unknown persons and take proactive steps to ensure your safety. Special name badges are available for those attending one session only.

This program booklet is the only copy you will receive. Bring it with you to the Conference. Additional copies will be sold at registration for $4.50. Program changes will be listed monthly on the NCFR website: http://www.ncfr.org/conference_info/index.asp. A printed copy will be enclosed in your Conference program packet. Be sure to read it carefully.

Accommodations for Special Needs

We want to insure that everyone can fully participate in the Conference. If you need any special auxiliary aids, please contact Cindy Winter, Conference Coordinator, toll free: 888-781-9331, ext. 15; phone: 763-781-9331, ext. 15; e-mail: wintersc@ncfr.org.

Do You Have Questions or Need Help?

Stop by the NCFR Conference Registration Desk during registration hours, and the staff will gladly help you. NCFR staff will also be at the NCFR Exhibit Booth on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, during Exhibit Hours. Feel free to ask questions of Board, Committee, and Elections Council members who are wearing colored ribbons on their name badges.

CEU Verification

Attendees may apply for CEU credit certificates verifying Conference attendance. Sign up on the registration form. A $15 administrative fee is charged. Materials will be given to you when you register onsite. Certificates of Attendance will be mailed by Dec. 30, 2001.

One credit hour verification is given for each hour in session. Program presenters receive double credits for session(s) in which they are presenting.

CEU's pending through NASW, EAPA, APA, ASA, George Mason Univ., New York Dept. of Education. Up to 40 contact hours or 4 CEU's are given for CFLE credit.

Contact Cindy Winter, Conference Coordinator, for details. Phone toll free: 888-781-9331, ext. 15; E-mail: wintersc@ncfr.org.

Licensed Child Care

Please send a list of the days and hours that you will need child care to Cindy Winter, Conference Coordinator. You will be contacted to set up arrangements. Be sure to include your phone number when you send in your request.

Emergencies

The Emergencies Committee will work with the Hyatt Regency Hotel and Rochester Riverside Convention Center staff in the event of an emergency.

If you have an emergency, DIAL O from any house or guest phone in the hotel or convention center, and the operator will send assistance immediately. DO NOT dial 911; this will slow down the process.

A complete list of services will be available at the NCFR Conference Registration Desk, the Hospitality Center, and the NCFR Exhibit Booth. Emergency numbers and a place for you to list a person to contact in an emergency will be printed on the back of your Conference name badge.

Program

9:00 - 10:00 am

Opening Session and Press Conference

How Family Friendly is Upstate New York?: Findings From the Cornell Community Study

Keynote Speaker: Phyllis Moen, Director, Cornell Employment and Family Careers Institute

Panel: Stephen Sweet; Bickley Townsend

This session will unveil the Cornell Community Study Report, a study being released at the Work/Life Summit. The report summarizes survey data provided by 631 couples (1534 individuals), interviewed in 1999-2000. All of the participants live in 57 middle class neighborhoods in Upstate New York, concentrated in the Rochester, Syracuse, and Ithaca areas. Study participants offered detailed information on their work, family, and community experiences, their reasons for living in upstate New York, and their future plans. Additionally, the report outlines demographic shifts, drawing upon data in the 2000 Census, and implications these changes have for community leaders, employers, and residents in upstate New York. The panel will discuss the various aspects of the report and answer questions from the audience.

10:15 - 11:45 am

What Does an Employer of Choice Look Like?

Panel: Deb Koen, Vice President, Career Development Services, Rochester; Mary Ann Detmer, Diversity and Work/Life Manager, Staffing, Diversity, & Work/Life, Eastman Kodak; Shelley M. MacDermid, CFLE, Director, Center for Families, Purdue University

Topics to be discussed: Who Are America's Employers of Choice? Programs; Policies; Work-Life Strategies to Create Competitive Advantage

Noon - 1:30 pm

Lunch and Plenary

Bringing Out the Best: Effective Collaborations Between the Research and Business Community,
Ellen Galinsky, Families and Work Institute, New York City

1:45 - 3:00 pm

Where Do We Go From Here?

Panel: Bob Tobin, President, Tobin & Associates; Clayton Osborne, Vice President for Human Resources, Bausch & Lomb

Discussion of what we have learned, and how best to continue our efforts after the Summit. Is there a mechanism already in place?

Red Cross Disaster Mental Health Course

Tuesday/Wednesday, November 6-7, 2001, 8:00 am - 5:00 pm
Carson Room, Hyatt Regency Rochester Hotel

Sponsored by the NCFR Association of Councils and Family Therapy Section, American Red Cross, and Lily Foundation

Led by Jack Herrmann, Univ. of Rochester Medical Center.

Fees: $75 (includes course materials, refreshments, and box lunch). Register on the Conference Registration form on page 79 or online at www.ncfr.org. Check the website for complete eligibility requirements.

Opportunity at NCFR for Red Cross Certified Relief Mental Health Training Pre-Conference: Two-day training at a low cost to you - Do you qualify?

Red Cross certification will be granted at the completion of this course.

If you have an interest in being trained and are willing to assist the RED CROSS in your home state when a disaster occurs, you will want to take the training. We are fortunate to have an excellent trainer in Jack Herrmann, who is located in Rochester, NY. The number is limited, so act on this soon.

Here are the basic steps:

- 1) Each participant meets the eligibility requirements (check the NCFR website for details of the requirements: http://www.ncfr.org/pdf/Preconference_Workshops.pdf).
- 2) Each participant must complete the Introduction to Disaster course given through their local American Red

Workshops

Pre-Conference Workshops

Cross Chapter. It is offered on video for the convenience of participants.

- 3) Each participant must complete an application 5898H which is available from their local Red Cross and most importantly, attach a copy of their current professional license or certification. That application must indicate the dates and location of the course in Rochester and submitted to American Red Cross National Headquarters through their local chapter.

Complete instructions will be sent to you when you register for the Workshop.

Theory Construction and Research Methodology Workshop

Tuesday and Wednesday, November 6-7, 2001
Hyatt Regency Rochester Hotel

Workshop Fees: Professionals - $40 (includes 1 copy of the paper packet); Students - $25 (includes 1 copy of the paper packet); Attendance only - $20 (does not include paper packet); Non-Attendance - $25 (paper packet will be sent AFTER the conference).

Papers presented at this workshop will be sent to registrants in advance. Make checks, money orders, or university purchase orders payable to TCRM2001/NCFR.

You may print out a registration form by connecting with TCRM's website through the NCFR site: www.ncfr.org. The link is in the Annual Conference section of the site. Send all TCRM registrations and correspondence to: David Fournier, TCRM2001 Chair, Oklahoma State University, 232 HES, Stillwater, OK 74078, or e-mail at fredg@okstate.edu, or by phone at 405-744-8351 or by fax at 405-744-2800.

The TCRM Workshop facilitates the development and advancement of theory and methodologies in the family. Papers in developmental stages are duplicated and distributed to all TCRM registrants. Two formal discussants join an informed audience to dialogue about the papers presented.

The NCFR International Section will be sponsoring a Silent Auction of International Items to be held in the Exhibit Room Thursday, Nov. 8, 11:45 am to Saturday, Nov. 10, 1:15 pm.

Come and bid on arts, crafts and other related objects from places including France, Ireland, India, Bahamas, Ghana, Zimbabwe, Kenya, South America, Russia, Poland, and Georgia. You won't want to miss this! Proceeds benefit the Jan Trust Outstanding Contribution to Comparative Family Studies Award and the Section's activities. If you wish to contribute an item contact Ruthann Hanson, CFLE, Vice-Chair at 717-766-2311 ext. 2850 or rhanson@mcstate.edu.

A second Silent Auction sponsored by the Local Arrangements Committee will be in the Hospitality Center (Galleries Lobby of the Convention Center). In addition to picking up brochures, and meeting new friends, you can shop for family and friends at the Silent Auction. Members and businesses have donated items to be sold at the Auction.

Proceeds from the Silent Auction will be given to a food shelf in Syracuse, and The Family Resource Centers in Rochester, NY.

Come and see the array of items donated. Last year a hand-made baby quilt generated a great deal of interest as new grand-pieces vied for the top. If you would like to donate an item, please contact Cindy Winters, Conference Coordinator at 800-781-9131, ext. 15, or e-mail: winnersc@ncfr.org.

SPECIAL SESSION

Back to Basics: What Do We Mean When We Say "Qualitative Research?"
Robert Bogdan, Ph.D.

Sponsored by the NCFR Research and Theory Section

President: June F. Gilgun

The wide-ranging use of the term "qualitative research" has left many confused about what it means. Dr. Bogdan will take us through a study that used both observation and interviews as a way of clarifying the meanings of the term. In addition, he will discuss the evolution of qualitative approaches and the meanings surrounding them today. Dr. Bogdan is widely known as an engaging, humorous speaker who artfully articulates key issues related to qualitative approaches. For more than 30 years, he has taught and done qualitative research, building upon work he did as a graduate student with his mentor and teacher, Blanche Green.

Robert Bogdan is a professor of Sociology and Cultural Foundations of Education at Syracuse University, where he is director of the Interdisciplinary Doctoral Program in the Maxwell School. He has taught qualitative research for 30 years. The author of 12 books and more than 100 articles related to human services and research methods, two of his books are widely used as graduate texts in qualitative research. He was awarded Syracuse University's Chancellor's Citation for Exceptional Academic Achievement and a Fulbright Lecturer in Sweden.

MARIE PETERS AWARD ADDRESS

Family Stress, Ethnicity and Resiliency: Dangers and Opportunities in the Advancement of Theory, Research and Practice, Hamilton I. McCubbin, CFLE

Presentation of the 2000 Marie Peters Award for outstanding contributions in the area of Ethnic Minorities.

President: Velma McBride Murry, Award Committee Chair

In the advancement of family stress theory and practice, the discovery of protective and resiliency factors in families of different ethnic backgrounds presents new opportunities as well as challenges to family scholars and practitioners. In drawing from his 30 years of research and practice and his current work with Native Hawaiian children and families, implications for family stress theory, research and practice will be presented.

Hamilton McCubbin, past President of NCFR, is the Chief Executive Officer of the Charitable Trust of Bernice Pauahi Bishop and the President of its Foundation. The 6 billion dollar Trust, with an education mission to serve families and children of Native Hawaiian Ancestry operates three K-12 secondary schools on different islands, 60 plus early childhood programs, an extension and outreach program which branches to the continental US and awards 24 million dollars in scholarships complemented by a post high counseling program. He formerly served as Dean of Zayed Univ. in the Middle East, Dean of the Sch. of Human Ecology, Univ. of Wisconsin, and Head of the Family Social Science Dept., Univ of Minnesota.

ARE YOU THE LUCKY WINNER?

SPECIAL SESSION & AWARDS CEREMONY

The Prevention of Targeted Violence in Schools, Bryan Vossekuil; Robert A. Fein, Ph.D.

Prsident of Awards Presentation: Stephen R. Jorgensen, 1999-2001
NCFR President

Session Prsident: Thomas R. Chibucos

The Secret Service through the National Threat Assessment Center identified 41 incidents of school shootings since 1974 in which the school was specifically chosen as the site of the attack and where serious injury or death occurred. An analysis was conducted of the pre-incident thinking and behaviors of the attackers in order to provide accurate and useful information that might help law enforcement and school officials identify earlier, persons at risk of attacking and intervene more effectively in those situations. Through reviews of investigative, school and court records and interviews with attackers, their planning behavior, target selection, motives, communication patterns and the process of ideation to action were explored. In this presentation two case studies, study findings and their implications will be discussed.

Bryan Vossekuil is a recently retired Special Agent of the U.S. Secret Service. Currently he is a consultant to the Secret Service's Natl. Threat Assessment Ctr. as co-director of the Secret Service Safe Schools Initiative. He is also director of the Natl. Violence Prevention and Study Ctr. In his over 20 years with the Secret Service, he carried out a variety of responsibilities including service on the Presidential Protective Detail and in the Intelligence Div. He has consulted and spoken widely on the identification, assessment, and management of persons who might pose threats of violence. He has served on the Dept. of Justice/National Criminal Justice Assn. Resource Group that developed a model anti-stalking code and has worked with numerous federal agencies as they developed systems for dealing with threatening behaviors. He is co-author of several books regarding assessment of violence.

Robert Fein is director of the Natl. Violence Prevention and Study Ctr. and a consultant to the U.S. Secret Service's Natl. Threat Assessment Ctr. He has much experience as a forensic psychologist at several facilities, and worked with the U.S. Secret Service, reviewing and consulting on protective intelligence cases. He is co-author of several books and articles on assessment and prevention of threats. Recently he has served as co-director of the Secret Service Safe Schools Initiative. Dr. Fein holds appointments at the Harvard Medical School, and the Univ. of Massachusetts Medical School.

NCFR is pleased to honor the winners of the 2001 Awards: Ernest Osborne; Distinguished Service to Families; Reuben Hill; John Mc Adoo; Jessie Bernard; Jan Trost; Students/New Professionals. See page 10 for a description of the Awards. NCFR Appreciation Awards were presented during the Business Meeting, Thursday, Nov. 8.

Three new NIMH investigators present their research.

Debra Umberson

Frank Fincham

Steven R.H. Beach is Professor of Clinical Psychology and Associate Director, Institute for Behavior Research at the University of Georgia. His research focuses on marital processes, marital discord and aggression, depression and anxiety in close relationships, and well-being in relationships. He has published numerous articles in the Journal of Social and Personal Relationships, the Journal of Family Psychology, the Annual Review of Psychology and others. He is a Fellow of the American Psychological Association.

Benjamin Karney is Professor in the Department of Psychology, University of Florida. He has published numerous journal articles and book chapters, and has presented at many scholarly conferences. He has twice received the Ruben Hill Award from the National Council on Family Relations. He has also been honored by the National Science Foundation, the American Psychological Association and the National Society for the Study of Personal Relationships. He sits on the editorial boards of Personal Relationships and the Journal of Family Issues.

Debra Umberson is Professor and Chair of Sociology at the University of Texas-Austin. Her research focuses on structural determinants of physical and mental health, with a specific focus on gender and life course variation. She is now writing a book on the impact of a parent's death on adult children and families, based on research supported by a FIRST Award from the National Institute on Aging. Her newest research project, also funded by NIA, examines changes in marital quality over the life course.

Frank Fincham is Professor, Dept. of Psychology, and Director of Clinical Training at SUNY-Buffalo. He is the recipient of numerous awards, and has been elected a Fellow at several professional organizations, including NCFR. Throughout the years he has received many grants for his research from NIMH, National Science Foundation, WT Grant Foundation, and others. He is a prolific writer in the field of marital and family relationships, and has been guest editor and on editorial boards of several professional journals.

Community Building: A Comprehensive Family-Centered Approach, Neal Halfon, M.D., M.P.H.

Discussant: Thomas R. Chibucos

Moderator: Paula Dressel, The Annie E. Casey Foundation

Community building has a long tradition of systematic efforts to revitalize neighborhoods and empower residents. Family-centered community building is a relatively new emphasis that puts concerns of families at the center of such change. How is this emerging field being defined, what family theories, research, and issues are most relevant to it, and what does - or should - work within this frame look like? This session offers commentary on these questions and invites audience contributions to that exploration.

A reception follows, sponsored by The Annie E. Casey Foundation, which is undertaking a 10-year Neighborhood Transformation/Family Development initiative.

William J. Doherty, Professor, Family Social Science and MFT Director, Univ. of Minnesota. NCFR Immediate Past President. Co-chair, Collaborative Family Healthcare Coalition. Developed Family Life 1st Project.

Robin Jarrett, Associate Professor, Human and Community Development, Univ. of Illinois-Champaign/Urbana. Conducts research in the area of coping strategies of low-income African-American families and children in inner-city neighborhoods.

Gilberto Cardenas, Assistant Provost and Director, ILS; Julian Samora Chair, Latino Studies; and Professor, Dept. of Sociology, Univ. of Notre Dame. Executive Director, Inter-University Consortium for Latino Families.

Neal Halfon, Professor, Pediatrics, Sch. of Medicine; Professor, Community Health Sciences, Sch. of Public Health, UCLA. Consultant, RAND Health Program. Director, UCLA Ctr. for Healthier Children, Families and Communities and Child and Family Health Program, Sch. of Public Health.

Do You Want to be More Active in NCFR?

NCFR is a multi-disciplinary organization offering many membership benefits, and becoming more active in the organization is a great way to meet other colleagues. Here are some ideas to help you meet the leaders during the Conference.

- ◆ Attend the Newcomers Reception on Thursday, Nov. 8, 8:00 am. If this is your first or second time at the NCFR Conference, you are welcome to attend.
- ◆ Come to the One Stop Shopping on Thursday, Nov. 8, 7:45 pm.
- ◆ Attend Section Membership Meetings. If you are active in Sections, it is easier to be more involved in the organization as a whole.
- ◆ Come to the Annual Business Meeting and Membership Forum followed by the Diversity Action Forum on Thursday, Nov. 8, beginning at 5:15 pm.

Plan Now for Future NCFR Conferences

Families Over the Life Course: Bridging Research and Practice

November 19-24, 2002

Hyatt Regency Hotel, Houston, TX

Program Chair: Alan Booth, Penn State University

Plenary Sessions

- ◆ Is strengthening marriage to reduce the divorce rate a workable strategy for policy and intervention?
- ◆ How can we foster resiliency in children and adolescents in low income families?
- ◆ Is parent and child well-being getting better or worse under welfare reform?

Special Thematic Sessions

- ◆ What are future prospects for increasing father involvement in child rearing and household activities?
- ◆ What can be done to enhance long-term caregiving of elders by their family members?
- ◆ What are successful approaches to university-community collaborations to enhance child and parent well-being?

Special Features

- ◆ Thematic Paper Sessions with discussants
- ◆ Combined and up-graded poster sessions that will meet when there are few competing events
- ◆ Research Updates for Practitioners on topics undergoing rapid change
- ◆ Workshops focused on new methods and practices providing hands-on experience for beginners and those needing a refresher course
- ◆ Symposia on research and practice topics just emerging or for which there is renewed interest
- ◆ Professional Development Seminars

Come next year for an innovative conference guaranteed to broaden and enhance your way of thinking about what you do. Plenaries and special thematic sessions will focus on different topics from every phase of the life course. Each plenary and special thematic session will have multiple and well known speakers representing the fields of both research and practice. Researchers will represent both the basic and applied domains. Practitioners will include educators, therapists, program administrators, policy specialists, community organizers, lawyers or judges, and evaluators.

The sessions will reflect a variety of formats. One format is a panel comprised of several speakers. After making brief introductory remarks, panelists discuss the issue/topic among themselves and invite audience participation. Another format consists of one or more speakers presenting a more lengthy talk, followed by discussants critiquing the speakers or offering alternative points of view, and audience participation.

Mixing researchers and practitioners serves all NCFR members. Researchers gain an appreciation of the complex nature of the individual, organizational and community problems that affect families - this information will inform future research objectives and strategies. Practitioners will gain a better understanding of what is known about family relationships, individual development, and relationship dynamics, but also learn about issues about which researchers are uncertain or find difficult to research. These ideas will inform practice design and evaluation.

The 2002 Call for Proposals will be in the Conference Packets, inserted into the December NCFR Report, and available to print out from the website: http://www.ncfr.org/conference_info/index.asp after October 15, 2001.

2005 - November 15-20 - Phoenix, AZ

PUBLICATIONS FROM FAMILIES AND WORK INSTITUTE FOR NCFR ATTENDEES

We at Families and Work Institute are very proud to present some of our recent work-life publications to participants at the NCFR conference. FWI, which I co-founded in 1989, is a non-profit center for research that informs decision-making on the changing workforce, changing family and changing community. Please consult our Web site, www-familiesandwork.org for more information about us and about our publications. We look forward to continuing to provide high quality research on the issues that matter most to you.

Ellen Galinsky, FWI President and Keynote Speaker, NCFR Work-Life Summit 2001

Feeling Overworked: When Work Becomes Too Much

Ellen Galinsky, Stacy S. Kim and James T. Bond, May 2001. $34.00

There is a great deal of discussion about how overworked employees in the United States feel these days, but what does this mean? This is the first study to provide an in-depth examination of feeling overworked, investigating its prevalence, its antecedents and its consequences. Implications for employers include safety in the workplace, job performance, retention, and health care costs.

The Time Crunch: Work Redesign and Management in a 24-7 Economy

Erin Brownfield, February 2001. $5.50 each for 1-9 copies (volume discounts available)

Are issues like feeling overworked, burnout and stress negatively impacting your organization? This brief presents case studies illustrating how recent initiatives at three leading U.S. companies redesigned the work process to alleviate these problems without sacrificing productivity.

Ask the Children: The Breakthrough Study that Reveals How to Succeed at Work and Parenting

Ellen Galinsky, Quill 2000. Paperback - $14.00; Hardcover - $25.00

This breakthrough study, now out in paperback, reveals surprising new facts and comprehensive practical ideas for the millions of mothers and fathers struggling to manage work and family life. Selected by the Wall Street Journal as one of the best work-life books of 1999.

The 1997 National Study of the Changing Workforce: Public Use File

Price for Businesses: $1,000.00; Price for Government Agencies and Non-profits: $500.00;

Price for Faculty and Students: $250.00

In response to many requests from researchers to have access to our nationally representative study of the work, family and community lives of US workers, this CD-ROM contains data files and complete documentation for the 1997 survey. Includes: Data files in SPSS "portable file" format, which can be read by SAS and other statistical software; Complete CATI-derived interview protocol, with response coding and skips; SPSS syntax files documenting construction of various analytic variables from raw data; A brief guide and map to facilitate secondary data analysis. For more information, please consult our Web site.

As the Baby Boomers Age: Impacts and Implications for Employers

Erin Brownfield, March 2001. $5.50 each for 1-9 copies (volume discounts available)

This brief looks at the demographic and societal forces that will shape when—and how—the 83 million members of the baby boom generation retire and investigates the needs and characteristics of older workers. Includes case studies of organizations that have found innovative ways to address this important up-and-coming issue.

How to Make the Most of the Conference

Note: Check the NCFR website http://www.ncfr.org/conference_info/index.asp attendees section for more tips on Preparing for a Good Conference Experience (after August 1).

How to Prepare Before You Leave Home

Review the Printed Program Carefully

- ♦ Note all of the sessions you would like to attend. Highlight your “must sees.” Look at the Subject Index on page 5 for presentations that fit your interests. Be sure to bring your Printed Program with you to the Conference; additional copies cost $4.50.
- ♦ Rank the presentations you want to attend. Try to schedule Section membership and committee meetings as well as receptions and parties. Be sure to include appointments you want to make. Write your final choices on your Personal Schedule Planner in the pullout section.

Make Networking Plans

- ♦ Ask colleagues to introduce you to people you would like to meet.
- ♦ Prior to the Conference, schedule appointments with those people you would like to meet at the Conference. Read their books and articles for ease in conversing with them.
- ♦ Bring return address labels or print your name and address on a sheet of peel-off labels so you can quickly attach them to sign-up lists and order cards.
- ♦ Bring along business cards to hand to exhibitors, presenters, and new friends. If you bring a laptop or electronic calendar, copy the addresses, phone numbers, and e-mail addresses of new colleagues.
- ♦ Pack copies of your resume for colleagues and the Employment Matching Service.
- ♦ The NCFR Conference offers a limited number of volunteer positions. Many student aides at NCFR Conferences have become active members after this experience. If you work 8 hours, half of your Conference registration fee will be refunded after the Conference. Obtain forms by contacting the NCFR office at 888-781-9331, or printing one off the NCFR Website: http://www.ncfr.org/pdf/Student_Aides.pdf. Contact Alan Taylor by September 1.
- ♦ Register before October 1 so that you can review Program materials ahead of time.

Miscellaneous Notes

- ♦ For emergencies, leave the telephone number of the hotel, your schedule, and NCFR's number with your family and colleagues.
- ♦ Select clothes that create the image you want to project at the Conference. This is particularly important if you are using the Employment Matching Service. Also include clothes for exercise and all types of weather.
- ♦ Allow space in your luggage to bring home copies of papers, books, and flyers.

Take Advantage of Networking Opportunities

- ♦ Attend the Newcomers Reception on Thursday, Nov. 8, 8:00 am. Introduce yourself to other first-time attendees and meet the NCFR Board of Directors. Come to the President's Welcoming Reception on Thursday evening, Nov. 8, 9:00 pm. At the reception meet President Stephen R. Jorgensen and his wife, Julie. Take time to meet NCFR Board members, other NCFR members, and Michael L. Benjamin, NCFR Executive Director.
- ♦ Check name badges. They are coded for students or first-time Conference attendees. Suggest meeting other attendees for a snack or a meal.
- ♦ Be assertive. When you introduce yourself, have a brief 3-5 second explanation of the kind of work you do to help break the ice. Be a good listener!
- ♦ To find someone, leave messages in several places: the NCFR message board, the hotel front desk, or under a guest's door.
- ♦ Attend receptions and parties, especially those sponsored by college departments.
- ♦ Use the central sitting areas. These are great places for people you know to introduce you to people they know.
- ♦ Exchange business cards when meeting new colleagues. Make notes on the back to remind yourself about significant information. Follow up with phone calls or notes after you return home.
- ♦ Share rooms. Staying with a group of people you know adds to the fun and lowers expenses. If you want to room with someone, but don't have a roommate, call the NCFR office.
- ♦ Stop in the Hospitality Center (Convention Center Galleria) and meet new people. Sign up to go out for “each person pay your own way” dine-arounds with leaders in the family field.

Keep Physically Fit, Mentally Alert, and Safe

- ♦ Make sure you get enough rest during the Conference. Fatigue is predictable due to a combination of late evenings, presentations, dinners, parties, early sessions, and meetings.
- ♦ Don't skip meals. Try to eat a balanced diet. Take workout gear. The hotel has indoor exercise equipment.
- ♦ Be safety-smart while at the Conference. 1) Don't wear your name badge outside the Conference facility. 2) Stay in groups when walking outdoors. 3) When you are in your room, keep the door locked and the deadbolt engaged at all times. If someone comes to your door, use the peephole to see who it is and call the front desk or security if the person says that he/she is on the hotel staff to see if the visit is authorized. 4) Be alert when riding an elevator by yourself. 5) Leave valuables in hotel safe deposit boxes.
- ♦ Frequently check for messages at the Message Board. Call the hotel front desk for phone calls.

"Well-written and well-researched... FatherLoss contains gems of wisdom for which many will glean ideas for lifelong coping strategies. Social work students have found [this book] a useful tool for understanding issues of grief and loss."

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY COLLEGE OF SOCIAL WORK

FATHERLOSS Neil Chethik

How Sons of All Ages Come to Terms with the Deaths of Their Dads

Based on a landmark national survey of more than 300 men, and interviews with 70 others, FatherLoss is a rich and nuanced look at one of the most common and least studied events in men's lives—the death of a father. Other insightful information includes:

- How a son can prepare for the loss of his father
- Specific strategies for coping in the period immediately following the death
- The role that women can play in helping men through such a loss
- Four specific styles of men's grieving
- How children, young adults, middle-aged men, and older men react differently to a father's death
- How a father can help prepare a son for the father's own death

"A welcome and necessary addition to the literature of bereavement and the lives of men."

—THOMAS LYNCH, AUTHOR OF THE UNDERTAKING

"Chethik is a sensitive storyteller."

The National Council on Family Relations

The National Council on Family Relations (NCFR) is a member-funded organization that disseminates information about families.

NCFR Mission Statement:

The National Council on Family Relations provides a forum for family researchers, educators, and practitioners to share in the development and dissemination of knowledge about families and family relationships, establishes professional standards, and works to promote family well-being.

Founded in 1938, NCFR has a membership of over 4,100 professionals worldwide. It publishes two premier journals, Journal of Marriage and Family, the oldest and one of the top five scholarly journals in America in the family field, and Family Relations, an applied journal; plus books, video and audio tapes and teaching materials.

NCFR is the only professional organization focused solely on family research, policy, and practice.

The Annual Conference held in November provides a forum for discussion of family issues. Approximately 1,300 family professionals attend the Conference each year.

Objectives of the NCFR Annual Conference:

- ◀ To upgrade your professional skills with new cutting-edge information through a variety of learning formats including plenaries, symposia, papers, workshops, posters, poster symposia, and round tables
- ◀ To network and share information with leading professionals in the family field
- ◀ To offer attendees continuing education credits
- ◀ To find new information, texts, and supplemental materials in the Exhibits
- ◀ To share ideas for applying research to practice
- ◀ To give NCFR members an opportunity to learn more about the governance of the organization and provide opportunities for active involvement in NCFR
- ◀ To participate in NCFR's public policy discussions and plans for action
