Come early or stay later in Vancouver for NCFR's 65th Annual Conference in this spectacular city like no other. On July 2, 2003, Vancouver was selected as the site of the 2010 Winter Olympics. Nestled between water and wilderness, Vancouver was voted the most livable city in the world by Business Travel Magazine, and is considered one of the 10 best convention cities on the North American continent. You can ski alpine slopes in the morning and golf or sail or shop in the afternoon, and for U.S. citizens a dollar goes a long way. Breathtakingly beautiful, this cosmopolitan city is clean, safe and friendly, and offers fascinating adventures to suit everyone's taste and most sights and activities are within 30 minutes of the city core.

Greater Vancouver has a population of 2.3 million people with 1/2 million in the city itself. It is a mix of multi-cultural groups and languages. After English and Chinese, the most common are Punjabi, German, Italian, Filipino and Spanish. The average November temperature is 48 degrees Fahrenheit.

The Canadian/U.S. Open Skies policy makes Vancouver directly accessible from all major U.S. cities at reasonable airline rates (see p. 12 and NCFR's website.) The International airport is only 11 miles from the city center.

The Canadian exchange rate is approximately 2/3 of the U.S. dollar. Since rates change daily, you can check them on the web at www.x-rates.com. U.S. currency, traveler's cheques, and credit cards are accepted.

A practical hands-on workshop for practitioners, therapists, family life extension personnel, clergy, and organizational leaders who welcome assistance to begin or to enhance an ongoing marriage enrichment emphasis in and through their organization, their congregation or the denomination.

Although the future of marriage is the stated issue for the 2003 NCFR conference, the future of healthy growing marriages continues to be the concern of most married couples. How can organizations that care about the health of the marriages within their arena of influence provide an ongoing marriage enrichment emphasis that works? The "Resources for BetterMarriages™ Workshop" is designed to assist leaders of institutions and organizations in the development of a "better marriage" emphasis that includes the following:

- ♦ One: Expanding the Vision for Marriage Enrichment
Clarify an organization's vision of marriage enrichment for its members and assist in the assessment of the marriage enrichment needs within the organization and its community.
- ♦ Two: Meeting the Needs of Married Couples
Demonstrate how effective researched-based resources can be utilized to meet the many issues of married couples throughout the marital lifespan.
- ♦ Three: Taking the Next Steps to Build Better Marriages - Guide participants in the preparation of an immediate action plan to implement an ongoing marriage enrichment emphasis.

2003 Proposal Reviewers

The heart and soul of the NCFR Annual Conference are the Concurrent Sessions sponsored by Sections. Colleagues submit proposals for presentation at the Conference. All proposals are blind, peer reviewed by three reviewers from the NCFR Section to which it is submitted.

The reviewers role is key to ensuring that conference presentations are of the highest quality for a rich, rewarding, and stimulating conference experience. Reviewers donated many hours to evaluate the proposals. We are grateful to the following reviewers this year:

Session #321 ..... Oxford

Special Workshop

Sponsored by the Points of Light Foundation

Strengthening Families Through Volunteerism and Research

Panel: Christopher Cihlar, Ph.D.; Bandana Shrestha

Low-income families and communities in general are often times viewed by service providers, traditional volunteer organizations, and even the researchers who study them, primarily as subjects - the recipients of services and not as providers of services or change agents. The reality is that many low-income residents volunteer and play a critical role in restoring the health and well-being of the neighborhoods in which they live. Agencies from outside the community who fail to recognize this jeopardize both the effectiveness and sustainability of projects they might undertake in the community. This session discusses the nature of volunteering in low-income communities and is based on the findings of research undertaken by the Points of Light Foundation. The workshop will help participants develop an understanding of how agencies can build and maintain effective partnerships with low-income communities and how volunteering can help strengthen families and transform neighborhoods.

Christopher Cihlar, is Director of Evaluation, and Bandana Shrestha, is Director, Model Programs and Partnerships, Points of Light Foundation.

2:15 - 3:15 p.m.

Lecturer: Norma J. Bond Burgess,
2002 Marie Peters Award Winner

Prsident: Wynona J. Bryant-Williams,
Award Selection Committee Chair

As family scholars, the road to success is often paved with many obstacles and challenges not discussed in graduate school - leaving many to their own measures as they develop careers and as it would be, life invariably happens. Turning of family and various life events, the tenure clock, and socially defined concepts of success can often take its tolls on the lives of many, hampering one's professional growth and development in significant ways. Burgess provides strategies for harmony in work and family life within a societal context, giving "take home" strategies that will be applicable.

Norma J. Bond Burgess is Professor and Chair, Dept. of Child and Family Studies, Syracuse Univ., a past NCFR Board Member and Association of Councils Officer.

Teaching Update

Safe Spaces for Students: Making the Campus Welcoming for Gay, Lesbian, and Bisexual Students
Lecturer: Anne-Marie Long

Presiders: Phil Adkins CFLE; Laura S. Smart CFLE

Heterosexual allies are an important component of creating a positive environment for Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual and Transgender (GLBT) students in academic environments. This is a mini-workshop designed to sensitize persons who would like to help create a positive environment for GLBT students on their campus. The session will also include information on how to set up Safe Spaces training at your institution.

Anne-Marie Long, MA, is an Equity Advisor with UBC's Equity Office and coordinates UBC's Positive Space Campaign. She works with students, staff, and faculty to help resolve human rights complaints of discrimination and harassment, facilitates training sessions and creates educational materials and equity initiatives. The Positive Space Campaign, one such initiative, works to address patterns of invisibility on campus that lead to the exclusion, discrimination and harassment of lesbian, gay, bisexual, queer, transgender, two-spirit and intersex (LGBQTTI) students, staff, faculty and the denial or erasure of their issues. By training resource persons and identifying Positive Spaces on campus, the campaign works to make UBC more visibly welcoming to and supportive of its LGBQTTI population.

Moderator: Carol A. Darling CFLE

Various countries beyond the U.S. have developed extensive programs in family life education, passed legislation to support family life education, proposed marriage/couples/parent education, and/or focused on issues of concern to families. However, there is little information and communication about the progress of these initiatives worldwide. The purpose of this forum is to learn about the status of family life education and family policy within our global community in order to facilitate an international information exchange and support network for countries dealing with similar issues. As we approach the 10th anniversary of the International Year of the Family, it is appropriate to have this dialogue. Presenters are from Taiwan, Korea, Finland, and Canada.

Plenary Speakers

- Arland Thornton, Univ. of Michigan (and colleagues) - Families in Countries at Various Levels of Development
Tim Smeeding, Ctr. for Policy Research and the Luxembourg Income Study, Syracuse Univ. - Income Inequality in Families Across Western-developed Nations (U.S. and Europe)
Peggye Dilworth-Anderson, Univ. of North Carolina-Greensboro - Inequalities Associated With Race

The Theme

Inequalities are inclusive. Inequalities are ubiquitous and overlapping and include dimensions involving nations, cultures, power, income, gender, religion, race/ethnicity, health, etc. There is a diversity of families, many facing several of these inequalities simultaneously. The intersection of multiple inequalities may be one of the most difficult obstacles faced by disadvantaged families. There is plenty of evidence showing that inequality is rising (particularly with respect to income) both within the US and internationally. A vast array of research has already documented the impact that inequalities can have on families.

Special Features

- ◆ Thematic Paper Sessions with discussants
- ◆ Poster sessions scheduled against few competing events
- ◆ Research Updates for Practitioners on relevant topics related to the theme
- ◆ Workshops focused on new methods and practices providing hands-on experience for beginners and those needing a refresher course. Symposia on research and practice topics just emerging or for which there is renewed interest

David H. Olson, University of Minnesota

0-07-295067-6 / 2003 / 640 pages

This best-selling introduction to marriages and families accentuates the positive aspects of relationships and focuses on enriching students' knowledge and experience in building strong, successful couple and family relationships.
